Five Possibilities Stand Before School Committeemen

Five alternatives for reorganizing the elementary and high schools within the present boundaries of the Acalanes High School District now stand before the County School District Organization Committee.

Members, under the chairmanship of Dr. Jack Shahbazian, formally eliminated alternative "No. 1", that is, leaving the present high school district and several elementary districts as they are now.

And they added another alternative to the list, which in its entirety reads as follows:

1. ONE UNIFIED DISTRICT embracing the present Acalanes High School District.

2. Three unified districts, consisting of (a) present Walnut Creek District (including Las Lomas and Del Valle High Schools) plus Sun Valley area; (b) present Lafayette District (with Acalanes High) less Sun Valley and plus northeastern Moraga; (c) present Orinda District (with Miramonte High) plus northwestern Moraga and Canyon.

3. Three different unified districts consisting of (a) present Walnut Creek District plus the Sun Valley area; (b) present Lafayette District less Sun Valley; (c) present Orinda District.

4. Two unified districts, consisting of (a) present Walnut Creek District plus the Sun Valley Area; (b) present Lafayette District less Sun Valley plus all of Orinda, Moraga and Canyon.

5. (ADDED TO THE LIST) Two unified districts, with Walnut Creek and Lafayette in one, and Orinda, Moraga and Canyon in the other.

Dr. Shahbazian said that most of the augmented committee members seem to be reaching "their own conclusions," on the basis of detailed reports submitted on assessed valuation (involving present and future tax rates), articulation (the smooth movement up the education ladder), special services, staffing patterns and salary schedules.

Actual recommendations may be made at the next meeting, January 20 at Acalanes High School, Shahbazian said.

And even if no decision is possible at that time, the committee will attempt to make recommendations as a guide for the county master plan, as is required in recent state legislation setting 1963 as the target date for county master planning in California.

Although the report on articulation favors "vertical" unification (elementary and high schools in same district) over horizontal unification, a financial aspect may directly oppose that concept, Shahbazian said.

WOULD A VERTICALLY UNIFIED district, having a smaller area, have sufficient assessed valuation to finance a new high school when its construction becomes necessary? Perhaps not.

The alternatives include the splitting of the Moraga District to follow natural boundaries, ease transportation and prevent unevenness in population size among the neighboring districts, but some Moragans have expressed the desire to avoid such splitting.

The proposed split would put the western slope of Charles Hill and the Glorietta area in Orinda, leaving the eastern slope to Lafayette and Rheem Center in Lafayette.

Where Sun Valley is proposed for the Walnut Creek District, the argument is that the area is in the Del Valle High School attendance area. Details are in the report.

ULTIMATE TAX RATES ARE predicted in a special chart, and indicate that in a few cases the rate may be somewhat higher under unification in 1980, but in several cases equal or lower.

Examples, under "ultimate, 1980":

Lafayette without any change—$3.37; with various forms of unification—$3.42, or $3.24, or $3.27.

Walnut Creek without any change: $3.19, with various forms unification—$3.25, so listed in three different alternatives.

Orinda without change: $3.31; with various forms of unification—$3.11 or $3.38 or $3.27.

The ultimate tax rate for all districts, should they merge into a single horizontal and vertical district, is predicted at $3.32.

BOTTLES AND COATHANGERS . . . doesn't sound like much, but it netted this group of Balancers from Orinda $80 last weekend, which was promptly turned over to the United Crusade. Balancers Stage Drive For Crusade

A group of teenagers in Orinda "The Balancers" held a successful one day bottle-coat hanger drive that netted $80 which they presented to the 1959 United Crusade campaign, according to Mike Finn, Drive chairman.

The members ranging in ages from 16 to 18, completed several civic projects and thought it time to do one charitable project, he said.

"When we reached this conclusion, it was only natural that we support the Crusade. The pres, radio, TV was very informative about this year's drive and we wanted to be good guys too," Mike reports.

Notices of the November 22 drive were prepared and distributed to all homeowners two weeks in advance of the day long drive. When the boys made the rounds, they found the bottles and coat hangers waiting at curbs for pickup.

The 13 high school and junior college students operate under the California Highway Patrol constitution which embraces road courtesy and safety rules. The club name "The Balancers" was technically taken from balancing a crankshaft.

The civic betterment projects include cleaning up the Moraga - Glorietta and Rheem Boulevards in conjunction with the county cleanup drive; and they were deputized on Halloween to assist in controlling the vandalism in the Orinda area.

Students Share Thoughts On Seasonal Celebrations

A concrete example of human understanding on the elementary school level was displayed yesterday in a classroom at the Orinda Union School.

Because some of the second graders wanted a better understanding of each other's celebrations during this holiday season, one of the second grade teachers thought of bringing the Jewish child's holiday thoughts to the foreground.

The teacher invited Mrs. Mark Kermit, mother of one of her pupils and the wife of the county traffic engineer, to the classroom yesterday morning to sing folk songs and to tell the story of Chanukah, the Jewish Festival of Lights, celebrated approximately the same time as Christmas.

Eben Kermit, a member of the class, brought along a Menorah, the eight-pronged candelabra used in the Chanukah celebration, and he described the relationship between the Menorah and lighted Christmas trees.

Principal Keith Burnham said the demonstration and explanation went a long way toward helping the young students understand each other's religious beliefs and visualize the similarities between them.

Mrs. Simon Chairman of Man of Year Committee

The 1959 Orinda Man (or Woman) of the Year Committee will be headed by Mrs. Millard Simon, and the additional members will include Donald Anderson and Zack Montgomery.

The committee is already scheduling meetings to select the outstanding Orindan who has done the most for the community during 1959; prior years' accomplishments will also be taken into consideration.

ONCE AGAIN, THE SUN is sponsoring the annual Orinda Man of the Year award, but the selection rests entirely with the committee.

Mrs. Simon has been active in various women's and community activities in Orinda, Anderson is the retiring president of the Orinda County Fire Protection District and has been president of the Orinda Association.

The judges will welcome your suggestions as to the person worthy of receiving the honor this year, but they are not bound by any recommendations outside of the committee. Suggestions can be sent to The Orinda Sun, P. O. Box 147, Orinda, and they will be turned over to the committee.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the person chosen as the Orinda Man of the Year will be made in the January 1 issue of The Orinda Sun. Later that person will receive a certificate from The Sun.

Glorietta Group Sponsors Contest

The Glorietta Improvement Association anounced plans this week for its third annual Christmas Lighting Contest.

W. Neill Porter, president of the association and contest chairman, said the contest is open only to those persons residing within the Glorietta area, and judging will be done between 7 and 10 p.m. December 19 and 20.

FIRST PRIZE will be a $25 U.S. Savings Bond, he said, and other prizes will consist of donations made by Orinda merchants. He explained there are more prizes this year than in the past.

Winners of all prizes will be notified before Christmas, Porter stated.

He explained that outdoor lighting should predominate the decorations, but indoor lighting which is visible from the outside may be used to highlight the outdoor materials.

Merchants donating prizes for the contest include Orinda Pharmacy, Casa Orinda, Orinda Camera Shop, Ogden's, Orchard Nursery, Moraga Nursery, Sprouse - Reitz, Black's Market, Ted DeLaveaga Chevron Service and Orinda Hardware.

Register To Vote

Voters desirous of balloting in the special school tax election February 9 have only until Thursday to register, according to Joseph Sheaff, superintendent of the Orinda Union School District.

The district will ask voters to authorize the borrowing of an additional $950,000 in State Aid funds. (See additional story).

Registration can be accomplished at any of the Orinda fire stations.

Man Retires To Sleep; Does Not Awaken

Saying he didn't want any dinner, Edgard D. Brown of 162 Canon Drive, Orinda, retired at 6:15 p.m. Monday.

His wife, Frances, asked him at 8:15 if he was hungry, and he said no, and when she prepared to retire at 10:15, she discovered he had stopped breathing.

Resuscitation efforts by the Orinda Fire Department did not revive him, and the body was given to the Little Chapel of the Valley, where an autopsy will be held.

New School Building Is Opened

The sixth school in the Orinda Union School District opened Wednesday without a great deal of flourish but with a definite sign of relief from about 400 students and their parents.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade students moved into the brand new Inland Valley School, a kindergarten through sixth grade facility located at Ivy and Coral Drives.

THE CEREMONIUS flourish usuall attendant to the opening of new school buildings was missing, according to Principal William Gaskell, because the first through third graders will not occupy the school until this week, and kindergarten classes will not follow until January 4 — the day Christmas vacation ends.

Gaskell reported that an open house and dedication ceremony will be scheduled after the Christmas vacation, and other opportunities for parents and the public to visit the new school will be arranged as soon as possible.

The Inland Valley School is the first complete school building opened by the Orinda Union School District since Pine Grove was dedicated three years ago.

ITS OPENING relieved double sessions at Glorietta, where most of the Inland Valley fifth and sixth grade classes had been housed, and it is expected that the transfer of the kindergarten through fourth grade classes to Inland Valley will relieve double sessions at Del Rey.

When this school year began in September, the Inland Valley classes were established in complete bodies at Del Rey and Glorietta, and the opening of the new facility means only the transfer of the entire classes, teachers and all.

One note of sadness prevailed over the opening, however. The contractor on the project, Fred von Guenthner of Orinda, has asked the district's board of trustees for a 30-d ayexnset trustees for a 30-day extension on the contract. The scheduled completion date on the project was only missed by about 10 days.

VON GUENTHNER said portions of two wings of the three-wing school, including the administration section, still have some work to be done in them, and there is some additional painting to be done.

He explained that the steel shortage, stevedore strikes and a shortage of latherers have delayed the project, but that the contract stipulated additional time for such adversities.

The school board referred the request for an extension of the time limit to the district atorney's office to determine whether or not a breach of the contract has occurred.

Gaskell reported that until the entire project is formally accepted by the school board, the Inland Valley playground will not be opened.

The lighted tree lends the Christmas atmosphere to the downtown business section of Orinda and is very noticeable even to motorists passing through the Crossroads on the freeway. Election Results Not Available

Counting of the ballots for the Orinda Association's election of new directors was started last night, but no results were available before The Sun went to press.

The five new directors — there were 10 candidates — will be announced in The Sun next week.

According to President Donald M. Anderson, the new directors will be seated at the association's regular board meeting December 28.

Trustees Allow Study Of Summer Baseball Proposal

Trustees of the Orinda Union School District have authorized the district staff to appoint a citizens' committee to study a aside a portion of the Wagner Ranch site for use by the community's summer baseball program.

The action was taken after the proposal was offered at Monday night's board meeting by Frank Isola, director of the district's recreation department, which sponsors the summer baseball program.

ISOLA ASKED that the committee be authorized to study the feasibility of using some of the Wagner Ranch site for baseball diamonds, a picnic area and a tots' play area.

He explained that last summer, its third year of operation, the program had 550 boys participating out of a total of 938 in the district who were eligible. The evening games, which are played within three leagues, drew a total of 4680 spectators.

The program included 172 games played over an eight-week period, he said, and 52 adults worked on the program with him.

IN ADDITION, Isola reported, the program continues to increase in popularity year by year, to the point that the games have become an excellent excuse for family outings among Orinda residents.

"But now, we have run out of space for our baseball games, and we certainly cannot provide a picnic area or a tot area with the space which is available now," Isola declared.

He suggested the possible improvement of three or four acres at the southern end of the Wagner Ranch property through community efforts. Many fathers in the district have evidenced an interest in such a program, Isola noted.

THE DISTRICT owns in excess of 25 useable acres of land on the Wagner Ranch site, and a recent attempt to construct a kindergarten through sixth grade school there failed because the submitted bids were higher than the State Aid program would allow.

Superintendent Joseph Sheaff reported, in answer to Isola's proposal, that James Anderson, architect for the district, has indicated that the aproval of the proposal would not interfere with the proposed future location of a school building on the site.

"This is a very worthy proposal," Sheaff said, "and it is one which would not cost the district a lot of money."

THE COMMITTEE, which has not yet been named, will report back to the school board at the conclusion of its study.

In other actions, the board:

1. Accepted a report on last summer's Summer School Program in the district by Glenn McNicholas, assistant superintendent. McNicholas said 1287 students participated — nearly twice the 1958 total — and the cost to the district was $10.06 per student.

2. RECEIVED the annual district audit for review.

3. Approved a request from the administration for the construction of a cyclone fence at the corporation yard, and set a $500 limit on the expenditure.

4. Approved the hiring of Mrs. Shirley Glickman, fifth grade teacher at Inland Valley, and Mrs. Patricia Conroy, second grade teacher at Sleepy Hollow.

5. Approved leaves of absence for Mrs. Joan Fennone, Mrs. Joan Thompson, Mrs. Sheila Carmassi and Miss Margie DiLonardo.

6. Scheduled a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. December 30 for the purpose of opening bids on the Inland Valley Intermediate School project.

7. Postponed the regular January board meeting from January 4 to January 11 because of the holidays.

Sheaff Says, Additional Classrooms Are Needed

The Orinda Union School District has no alternative but to seek authorization to borrow additional State Aid funds to help it cope with the projected problem of increasing building needs.

So spoke Joseph Sheaff, district superintendent, at a meeting of parents club representatives at the Pine Grove School Wednesday evening.

Sheaff called the special meeting to acquaint the community's parents club leaders with the need for additional classroom space and the district's lack of funds and to enlist their support for the February 9 special election.

THE DISTRICT'S trustees are asking the voters to approve authorization for the district to borrow an additional $950,000 from the State Aid school building fund as required. The issue must carry by a two-thirds majority in order to gain approval.

Sheaff pointed out that with the allocation of funds to the district for the construction of the Inland Valley Intermediate School, expected next Tuesday, the district will have depleted all of the state funds previously authorized by Orinda voters.

Because of the continued enrollment growth within the district, and the projected increase in this growth, the superintendent stated, the district's operating costs will increase whether or not the state tax issue passes February 9.

BUT, HE ADDED, the election issue itself will not increase the district tax rate and it cannot possibly have any effect on the operating tax rate or the present bond redemptoin rate.

As a matter of fact, Sheaff explained, the voters' approval on February 9 only authorizes the district to apply for additional loans, and the district still would have to qualify for the funds on the basis of the number of unhoused students and the square footage available.

The superintendent told the small group of parents that the operational tax rate only controls the actual operations of the district—number of teachers, class size, etc.—and it will increase as the enrollment of the district increases regardless of how many buildings there are.

IF THE TAX ISSUE passes, Sheaff continued, additional operating funds will be necessary to pay the greater number of teachers required to house the new buildings, and if the issue fails, the same number of teachers will be required to teach the students on double sessions.

The bond redemption rate, he said, is a maximum of 45 cents per $100 valuation as governed by the state, and because of the repayment of the district's own bonds, the maximum already is being paid.

Under the State Aid program, for which districts must qualify by bonding to a certain limit, loans are for 30-year periods and if the 45-cent maximum already is being paid, the loan repayments are deferred.

AT THE END of the 30 years, the state will forgive school districts for whatever amount of the loans remain unpaid, according to James Jentges, district assistant superintendent for business affairs.

The Orinda district currently is operating at a $2.24 rate and is paying the 45-cent limit, Jentges reported. Three years ago, the district voters authorized a maximum unlimited operational district tax rate of $2.75, and Jentges said it will be some time yet before the maximum will be reached.

Voters also approved a $950,000 bond issue at the January, 19957, election, according to Jentges, and the district has used only about $450,000 of its own bonds

Orinda School Class Applying Study to Season

The orchestra and fifth and sixth grade choruses of the Orinda School will present their annual Christmas program to the regular meeting of the school's Parents Club next Friday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Davis' fourth grade class is making good use of its current study of the colorful days of the Spanish Ranchos, way back when in California history. The class members are applying the study to the Christmas season.

STUDENTS ARE studying the Mexican Christmas celebration, complete with murals and the like. Jeanne Dilsaver is chairman of the mural committee, and she is assisted by Gwyneth Donchin, Gail Miller, Charles Loring and Jimmy Phelan.

Also in keeping with the holiday season, Mrs. Coffee's second grade class is presenting a musical Christmas play, "The Shoemaker and the Elves," to other classes in the school.

Ralph Newman portrays the shoemaker, Becky Jensen is his wife and the elves include Reed Harding, Doug Senz, Janie Calhoun, Engel Ford and Krista Redmond.

Jeff Brodie is the narrator of the production, Kitren Glozer, Lynn Miller and Nancy Olsen will serve as set designers and Melia Martin and Lynn Montgomery are to lead the class in seasonal songs.

Del Rey School First Graders Win Tree Honors

Miss Haworth's first grade class received recognition for a Christmas tree which the students made from Pampas grass and donated to the annual Christmas Tree Festival of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay, held at the Claremont Hotel last Friday.

The tree—which the class chose to call "The Littlest Angels' Tree"—won a star in the competition and Murray Lehr, owner of the Claremont, liked it so well he purchased it from the festival and has it displayed at the hotel.

Angels for the tree were made from ice cream bar sticks, and other ingenious ornaments were used to highlight the tree.

Sleepy Hollow Observes Yule

The annual Christmas program of the Sleepy Hollow School will be held next Friday in the school's multi-purpose room, and it will be purely for the entertainment of the students.

Principal Cynthia Knox reported that two sessions of the program will be held, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, to accommodate students in the afternoon session of the school.

Each class will entertain during the program, and all students then will take part in a community sing.

Live Christmas trees are being placed in each classroom at Sleepy Hollow. The students decided on the live trees in keeping with the planting of the school grounds. Trees will be planted by the sixth graders of Sleepy Hollow.

Glorietta Pupils Decorate Offices

The Glorietta School fourth grade classes of Mr. Woltz and Mrs. Carmassi provided the Christmas decorations for the school secretary's office.

The decor includes pictures of angels, stained glass windows and a snow scene.

Decorations for the office of Principal Jack Clark will be provided by the kindergarten classes of Mrs. Riesenberg and Miss Pierson.

A community sing for all Glorietta students will be held Thursday in the auditorium, with Miss Stadt's fifth grade, Mrs. Cutler's third grade, Mrs. Meek's fifth grade and Mrs. Schlosser's second grade providing special entertainment.

Schools to Close On Next Friday; Open January 4

Schools will close for Christmas vacation December 18 and will resume activities January 4, according to the Contra Costa County Schools Superintendent Floyd Marchus.

St. Mary's College Gets $5000 Research Grant

A $5000 grant for research in biological-medical fields has been awarded Saint Mary's College by The Roscoe and Margaret Oakes Foundation, San Francisco, it was announced today by Brother S. Albert, F.S.C., president of Saint Mary's.

To be administered by Brother S. Lawrence, F.S.C., Ph.D., assistant professor of biology, the grant will be used to further research activities in the biology department of the college on two levels.

THE CURRENT personal research of Brother Lawrence in areas of specialized biological photography, on which he is an expert, and research projects being conducted by advanced undergraduates under his direction.

According to Brother Lawrence, the major portion of the grant will be devoted to implementing and directing the latter type of research.

Emphasizing the importance of developing the habits of scientific inquiry at the undergraduate level, Brother Lawrence said, "This program emerges from the viewpoint that it is by participation in its activities and training in its methodology that the student can best be brought to truly appreciate and understand the nature of scientific activity.

"UNDERGRADUATE research currently under way involves investigations on the synthesis of melanin, a type of biological pigment, in a chemical process related to thyroid gland activity, as well as investigations concerning the role of the pineal gland in relation to general activity, growth and glandular balance in fishes."

Brother Lawrence has served on the faculty of Saint Mary's since receiving his doctorate from the University of Notre Dame in 1952. He completed his undergraduate work at the University of California.

Mrs. Dana Allison Named 1960 Mothers March Head

Mrs. Dana Allison of Pleasant Hill will serve as Mothers' March chairman for Contra Costa County Chapter, National Foundation during the 1960 March of Dimes drive.

Phil Johnson of Richmond, chapter chairman, stated that Mrs. Allison would direct volunteer recruitment and training for the Contra Costa "March." The annual event will be staged January 28 throughout the nation.

Mrs. Allison is a member of the chapter's executive committee, and a leader in community affairs in Pleasant Hill, where she has resided for 13 years. She is past Mothers' March chairman for that community.

Her other interests include the Diablo Valley Council and Pleasant Hill District Girl Scouts; Pleasant Hill Intermediate PTA, in all of which she has served as a director; Cancer and Red Cross drives, community concert groups and the Contra Costa County Chorus.

In accepting the "Mothers' March" chairmanship for the 1960 March of Dimes, Mrs. Allison said the work of the National Foundation ranks first on her list because of its effective emergency programs, both in epidemics and for the indivdiual.

"More of the money collected in the March of Dimes remains in the county where it is collected to be used for patient care than in other fund drives," she declared. "The Foundation gives moral and phychological help to families of patients as well as financial assistance for medical and rehabilitative needs."

Mrs. Allison is the mother of two young daughters, Christine, 4, and Jean, a pupil at Pleasant Hill Intermediate School.

since then.

ACCORDING to district enrollment projections, the business manager stated, the district will require an additional 32 classrooms to house its students within the next five years.

Cost of the additional classrooms, he added, will be about $1,450,000, and the district could make use of the $500,000 remaining in authorized bonds. This would leave the requested $950,000 to be borrowed from the state.

Sheaff indicated that he plans to have district officials speak to parents groups during the early part of January and to have a large public meeting sometime during the latter part of next month.

Chamber Group Takes Action In Support Of EBMUD

Orinda Chamber of Commerce directors adopted a resolution Tuesday in support of the East Bay Municipal Utility District's request for unrestricted use of 125 million gallons of water each day from the Mokelumne River.

EBMUD is involved in a current hearing before the State Water Rights Board to determine whether or not the State Department of Fish and Game should have a daily diversion of 45 million gallons from the river for the propogation of fish life.

THE CHAMBER resolution said, in part:

"The people of the (EBMUD) have made unmistakably clear their preference for the high quality water supply provided by the upper Mokelumne River project of the district as now in operation and as proposed for future development.

"Where, in that development, it becomes necessary to choose between water for fish life or water for municipal and domestic uses in the East Bay area, the latter choice should clearly prevail.

THE STATE WATER Rights Board is respectfully requested, in acting upon the request of the State Department of Fish and Game, to give consideration to the foregoing principles, and to relieve (EBMUD) from permit terms or conditions which would deny or prevent the application of those principles to the use of Upper Mokelumne River water in the East Bay Area."

EBMUD officials said other civic and service organizations in the central county will be asked to consider similar resolutions.

Chamber officials also voted to continue the group's fight for the installation of a traffic signal at the itnersection of Camino Pablo and Brookwood Road.

SECRETARY- manager Clarence Betz reported that the state has announced it is not going ahead with plans for the traffic signal, but would consider the possible channelizing of the intersection.

He said the chamber has been attempting to obtain the traffic signal for more than two years and has finally succeeded in getting the matter in this year's budget, both on the county and state levels.

The state's decision not to proceed with the Orinda plans is based on a determination that there are busier intersections more deserving of traffic controls, according to Betz.

RAMSAY UNDERWOOD, a chamber director, said the installation of the traffic lights would also help to control the speed of vehicles in the Camino Pablo - Brookwood Road area. He said motorists now are forced to proceed from a dead stop into a flow of 55-mile per hour traffic.

Other directors felt channelizing the intersection would be inadequate for the community's needs, and a traffic signal will be necessary at some later date.

The chamber will urge county and state officials to come to a decision resulting in the desired Orinda traffic light.

FINALLY, chamber directors agreed to drop a long discussed plan to put a welcome sign at each of the approaches to Orinda. The chamber had been cooperating with the Rotary and Lions clubs on the project, and it is now up to the two service clubs to determine if the project will be completely forgotten.

Underwood reported that the State Division of Highways has refused to allow such signs within the freeway right-of-way, and there are no other adequate sites for the signs.

College Pranksters Net Fine, Probation for 'Act'

A fake killing with all the trimmings (black sedan, shotgun, shells, sound effects, victim and getaway), netted three college pranksters $25 fine and two years probation each.

The youths, Timothy Ames, 19, 30 Diablo Court, Lafayette; Randolph Peterson, 19, 8 Los Conejos, Orinda, and Barry Norback, 18, 5 Valley View Drive, Orinda, staged the "murder" on Orinda Highway the night of December 3.

THE TRIO DROVE near a filling station and dumped out the "victim," then a shotgun was fired and the "body" fell to the ground.

Witnesses Glen DuVall, service station attendant, who lives in Berkeley and Don Riesterer, 21, 16 Camino Sobrante, leaped into action as they saw "someone shot to death in the middle of town, according to reports of the Contra Costa sheriff's office.

Riesterer took off in his car after the "assassins" while DuVall called the sheriff's office. They had failed to see that the "murder victim" had been whisked up by his "assailants" and taken to his home.

Within minutes, the area was saturated with sheriff's officers and highway patrolmen. Units of the Alameda County Sheriff and Oakland Police Department had started setting up road blocks.

Ames and Peterson, after dropping Norback off, returned to the "scene of the crime," but found the area blocked off while peace officers hunted for clues.

THE DUO DECIDED that the joke had gone far enough and told the nearest deputy.

The two were charged with disturbing the peace and Norback later faced the same complaint.

Judge Horace Van Gordon of Danville, who was sitting last Friday morning on the bench of the Walnut Creek Judicial Court, imposed the sentence.

Has Optimistic Talk by Hicks

"Krushchev's statement that history is on the side of the communists is pathetically false. Even if we were to lose the cold war we would win. If Russia were to win the war she would lose," said University of California Professor-Emeritus John D. Hicks, to Diablo Valley College students.

Dr. Hicks, a College Hour guest, spoke on "The Cumulative Strengths of America."

Said Dr. Hicks: "The best possible development of the individual is the greatest jewel in our crown. We achieve development by hammering out our differences within national political parties, employing a somewhat cumbersome method of decision-making by majority rule, but while defending minority rights and by insisting upon equality before the law.

Student Body Leaves Mark On School

By LARRY GLAZIER

History won't ever be able to forget the students who attended Orinda's Glorietta School during the school year of 1959-60, no matter how hard it tries!

Today's Glorietta student body always will be remembered as the one which produced the historical mosaic mural "hanging in the library."

ALTHOUGH the mural isn't in the library yet, the students have come a long way since last spring when the idea of such a library decoration was born in the mind of Mrs. Barbara Cutler, a third grade teacher at the school.

According to Glorietta Principay Jack Clark, every Glorietta student will have played a part in the mural production before the almost unique art work is placed in the library.

He explained that Mrs. Cutler saw a similar mural in Danville last year. When bids were let on the Glorietta library and classroom addition, she thought it would be a good idea to produce a mosaic work for the new building.

THE GLORIETTA addition was completed in September, but until now it has been used as a classroom by students waiting for the Inland Valley School to be completed. Students were to have entered Inland Valley for the first time this week.

Clark said that plans call for the 16-foot mural to be completed some time in June, after each one of the school's 508 students has placed at least one mosaic into its spot.

FIRST STEP in a long-term project of Orinda's Glorietta School student body is nearly complete, as members of the school's mosaic mural committee are shown finishing up the first draft sketch of the proposed 16-foot mural. The completed mural will be hung in Glorietta's new library, according to the faculty adviser, Mrs. Barbara Cutler. From left to right are John Gilmour, Dean DeGraffenreid, Linda Watkins, Mimi Leonardo, Chris O'Brien, Joyce Van Dyke, Laurie Fisher and Karin Deming. —Sun photo by Loren Briscoe.

He explained that the wall decoration will depict the growth of the Glorietta Valley from its earliest times to the present, and will include many of the most famous landmarks, including the train station, the old Santa Maria Church and a barn which stood on the present school site.

A COMMITTEE now is working with Mrs. Cutler in drawing and collecting the first draft sketches for the mural, and groups within the committee are responsible for certain segments of the picture story.

These preliminary sketches, Clark explained, will then be laid out on plywood sections, about 16 feet square, and the actual mosaic work will be done on the plywood.

Although much of the art work on the mosaics will be done by members of the committee, every student at the school will have the honor of putting at least one of the mosaic squares in its permanent place on the mural.

THE COMMITTEE members meet with Mrs. Cutler each week, and the mural work is performed during actual class time.

More and more excitement is being generated at the school about the mural, the principal says proudly, and the climax will not be reached until the completed mosaic is hung in the modern new library just before school lets out in June.

Present plans call for a gala dedicatory ceremony when the mural is hung on the library wall, he added.

And Mimi Leonardo, Chris O'Brien, Karin Deming, Loy Fisher, Joyce Van Dyke, Karla Rigor, Gail Gregory, Terry Trumbly, Greg Johnson, Dave Semrau and Barbara White.

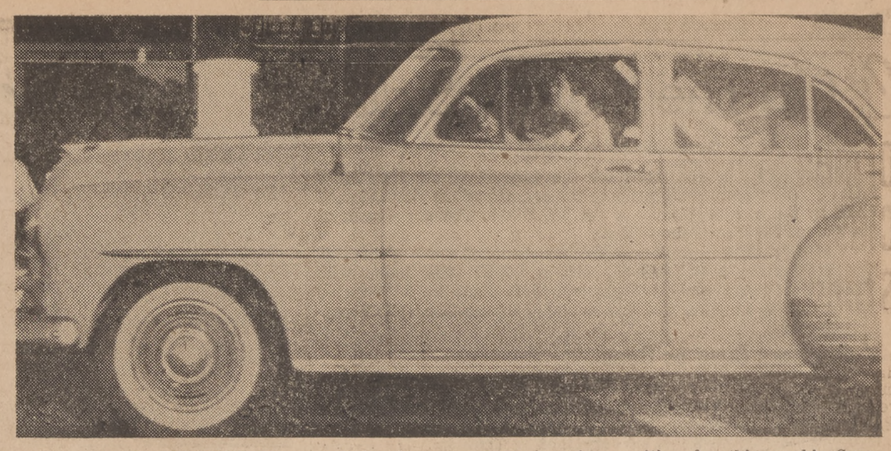
Mrs. Hammond Sees, Comes, Is $8.75 Wealthier

Mrs. Robert Hammond, 3497 School Street, is $8.75 to the good this week after being identified as The Sun's Lucky Commuter.

Mrs. Hammond was photographed by one of The Sun's photographers and her picture was published in last Friday's issue of The Sun.

Mrs. Hammond was presented with a $5 check and a year's subscription to The Sun, another $375 value.

Each week, photographers from The Sun take pictures of commuters in their cars, boarding buses or traveling through the central county area and each week one of these pictures is published in The Sun.



WHO IS THIS PERSON? Whoever it is, there are $8.75 in prizes waiting for this week's Sun Lucky Commuter. There is a $5 cash prize and a year's subscription to The Sun, a $3.75 value, waiting to be claimed. —Sun photo by Dave Ogden.

Sanitary District Adopts Business Sewer Use Charge

Several months of discussion were finally climaxed at the December 3 meeting of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District board of directors with the adoption of a sewer use tax for commercial users.

The ordinance, which will go into effect January 1, affects business firms, apartments, motels, hotels and multiple dwellings. No residential users are affected.

PREVIOUSLY customers have paid a lump sum connection fee. Such a fee, based on the number of fixtures in a building, ranged from $100 to $6900.

Under the new ordinance, business will pay a connection fee of $100 or 10 per cent of the old connection fee, whichever is greater. The monthly use charge will be 1 per cent of the old connection fee, or a minimum of $2.

Claude McPhee, board secretary, explained that businesses which have had sewer service since June, 1952, but paid the lump-sum connection fee will not begin paying the monthly use charge until they have been hooked up to the system for 90 months from the date of connection.

HE NOTED THAT businessmen, notably automatic laundry operators, have complained about the large cash connection fees they had to pay under the old system.

Any action relating to applying the same ordinance to residential dwellings has been postponed pending further study. The vote to adopt the ordinance was 4-1 with director Richard Mitchell dissenting.

In other business the district directors adopted a resolution stating that the M. Miller Co. of Los Angeles had "fulfilled" conditions for which it could be declared in default of its contract, but allowed the contractor to continue under promise of improved performance.

THE COMPANY is building a 5000 foot section of the new 72-inch outfall line from the district's treatment plant to Suisun Bay.

The $406,000 contract was to have been finished last June. District officials said the work is now progressing more rapidly.

Sheriff's Office Equipped With Nuclear Tools

Sheriff Walter F. Young has announced that all sheriff's department facilities in Contra Costa County are now equipped with nuclear radiation detection instruments and law enforcement personnel are trained in their use.

The trained personnel qualify the department to receive various types of radiological equipment from the California Disaster office and the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

Additional sheriff's office personnel will be trained periodically throughout the county by the county civil defense office. This training will necessarily include annual Review and refresher courses.

"The increasing use of radioactive isotopes by industries within this county and the almost daily transportation of isotopes through the county, make it imperative that law enforcement personnel be trained in radioactivity detection and know correct procedures to protect the lives and property of our citizens in the event of radiological accident." Young added.

Judge Says Over 40,000 Live in Area

Superior Court Judge Norman A. Gregg Tuesday signed a memorandum of decision in which he states it has been clearly shown the area served by the Walnut Creek court has more than the 40,000 residents necessary to force creation of a Municipal Court.

The memorandum gives opponents to creation of the court time to voice objections before the judge makes his decision final.

HOWEVER, JUDGE Gregg took under submission a complicated suit designed to force the court's establishment.

Judge Gregg said he questioned the procedure followed by Oakland attorney Edward J. Rice in filing the action.

Rice, representing defendant Fred Glatt of 2832 Jones Road, Walnut Creek, in a $600 damage action filed in Concord Municipal Court, sought a change of venue to the Walnut Creek court.

He sued Concord Judge Louis J. McKannay after he denied the transfer and ruled the Walnut Creek court was a justice court and could try cases involving $500 or less.

IN SIMILAR SUITS to establish municipal courts in this county, action was taken by the plaintiff, who filed a suit in justice court. The plaintiff then filed a mandamus action against the justice court judge after he denied jurisdiction and ordered the case transferred to the nearest Municipal Court.

If Rice's suit or a subsequent action is successful, the justice court immediately will become a municipal court with jurisdiction to hear damage and other civil suits involving up to $3000.

Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn will automatically advance from $8000 to $18,000 annually in salary. Similar increases will be automatic for the constable, who will become marshal, and clerks and other court attaches.

JUDGE GREGG received testimony Tuesday that the area served by the Walnut Creek court has 28,793 registered voters.

Under an accepted state formula of three residents for each registration, the district would have 86,379 residents, or more than double the required number.

Reynolds to SF Chamber Directorship

Quentin Reynolds of 35 Pino Crest, Walnut Creek, has been re-elected to the 1960 board of directors of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, announced G. L. Fox, chamber general manager.

Reynolds is manager of Safeway Stores, Inc., San Francisco division.

Special S Squad Created by Young To Fight Crime

A special "Suppression Squad" of sheriff's deputies was created last Friday by Sheriff Walter F. Young.

The new squad will patrol areas where the crime rate is the heaviest, Young commented.

The new detachment of men is similar to Oakland's Third Platoon and San Francisco's Operation S which concentrate on heavy crime areas, Young noted.

As a first step, the sheriff promoted three deputies and transferred them from the detention division to the patrol division.

Young is scheduled to hand pick three men from the patrol division to be the first men to serve on the new "S" squad.

Promoted from Grade I to Grade II deputies were: Arthur L. Sullivan, 2917 Hillsdale Drive, Walnut Creek; Alfredo Capobianco, Richmond, and Joseph P. McKeown, Pinole.

Young said the new squad will be dispatched to areas where the crime situation suddenly takes a turn for the worse.

Particular attention will be paid to burglaries, assaults, robberies and outbreaks of juvenile violence.

The squad will also be in attendance at youthful "rock and roll" dances, which occasionally get out of hand, the sheriff said.

An important part of the new operation, Young explained, will be a series of maps.

Heavy crime areas will be marked with pins and the sheriff's office will keep statistics on where outbreaks of lawlessness occur.

Dramateurs Will Entertain Vets

The Dramateurs will present a performance of their current hit, "The Hasty Heart," Tuesday evening for the patients of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Oakland.

The local thespians will conclude a very successful run of "The Hasty Heart" at the Lafayette Town Hall this weekend.

Robert Stearns, president of the group, said all necessary props will be moved into the hospital for the Tuesday performance, and since there is no admission charge the Dramateurs have received permission to put on the show without royalty fees.

Next regular meeting of the Dramateurs will be Monday night at the Lafayette Town Hall, and Stearns said it is possible that audition dates for the next offering of the group will be announced.

Crash Kills Danville Man

A Danville man was killed and five other persons were injured in four accidents on central Contra Costa County highways Saturday night and Sunday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The victim of the fatal accident was identified as Alvin Enoch Contz, 49, of 270 Cameo Drive, Danville. He was dead on arrival at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek.

Although there were no witnesses to the accident at 6:05 p.m. Sunday, physical evidence at the scene showed that Countz, driving east on Stone Valley Road in the Alamo area, apparently lost control of his car, went off the road and struck a utility pole.

Frank Fransworth Lind Jr., 34, of 3 Hilary Way, Orinda, said his auto was forced off the road by another car at 2:25 a.m. on Acalanes Road, 300 feet north of Hidden Valley Road. After leaving the Road, Lind's southbound car struck a utility pole.

A one-car accident in Orinda area resulted in injury to Steve R. Miller, 15, of 30 Las Cascadas, Orinda, who was treated by his family doctor. Miller was a passenger in a car driven by James William Rose, 15, of 9 Las Vegas, Orinda, who had taken his parents' auto without their permission. The car went off the road at the Camino Sobrante-La Cuesta intersection.

Rose, whose driver experience includes approximately 18 hours of driver training in school, was cited for excessive speed.

An accident at midnight Saturday involved three cars at the Orinda crossroads. Suffering bruises were the three drivers—Edward Rosston, 41, of 3913 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette; Morris Laderman, 52, of San Francisco, and Robert C. Stroeh, 36, of 32 Canyon Drive, Orinda—and Maxine Rosston, 32.

All three cars were eastbound on Highway 24 in the same lane when Rosston slowed down because she saw a motorist making a tire change at the side of the road. Laderman also slowed his car, but Stroeh's vehicle struck the San Francisco man's auto, forcing it into Rosston's machine.

The CHP said a complaint will be filed against Stroeh for following too closely.

On The Lighter Side

By MADELINE SCHWARTZ

ELEGANTE is the word for the CHAMPAGNE PREVIEW PARTY held December 2, prior to the opening of the CHRISTMAS FAIR by the combined units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center at the Walnut Bowl in Walnut Creek.

JAM-PACKED would describe the banquet room decorated with fascinating gold lanterns, with a LONG table laden with PLENTY of champagne and glasses. Soft piano music mingled with sounds of laughter and was accented by the CONSTANT popping of corks.

Volunteers Busy as Bees

BUSY were the members of the units staffing the booths, making change and wrapping the MANY artistic articles sold - - - pillows, books, antiques, Christmas decorations, toys, plants, candles and many more items too numerous to mention.

THOUGHTFUL was Dick Reed of Lafayette, who grabbed a tray of glasses and champagne to serve the 'Over-worked' sales ladies . . . CHARMING was Mrs. Charles Benoy (Juanita), administrator of the Center, who, by the way, left the following day for New York on Therapy business.

The Benoys were on hand for the dinner party held previously in the Diablo Room for the Board of Directors which included the Edmund Barnetts, Samuel Bradbards, both past presidents, the Gerald Balls, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Betaque, the Manuel Giffins, Mrs. Donald Krotz, treasurer, and John E. McKirahans, John is president, the Vance Perrys, Julian Ramellis, F. R. Rippinghams, James Simonds, Walter Weinzheimers and Mrs. Philip Knox, Jr.

Also there, were the selective members of the board; the Lance Bardens, Mrs. Stanley J. Mjka, the D. Falconers, Gus Malmquists, Donald Johnsons, John Belis, Charles E. Nunes and the S. E. Prices. The committee chairmen and husbands in attendance were the Edward Lazzareschis, King Tolles, Walter Reeds, Robert Kuhns, Robert Schroders, Richard Liebers, the Richard Emorys and Mrs. Aldo Vasconi.

Banquet Room Packed

SPOTTED sipping champagne in the banquet room and the crowding around the fair booths were Ted Barcelons, M. E. Barckleys, Thomas Bridgefords, Philip Chances, Gordon Frazells, Jack Francks, John Gilcrests, Robert Heatons, Charles Nunes', Dick Rockwells, Leo H. Schells, Bruce Stringers, E. S. Taylors, John Wakemans, Frank Wicks, John Bradleys, Robert Cooks, Fred Lathams and the Bob Spitzacks.

Buried deep in pillows and busy as bees making sales were Mesdames Dan Arena, Don Smith, Paul Daly and Don Ford while their husbands caught up on football talk.

After the party the Gil Youngs, M. F. Ohmans, Les Underhills and the Howard Richmans bowled game after game 'til closing time and certainly must be experts by now! You might like to know the fair fared WELL and could be described as a SUCCESS!

Lecturer at Women's Club

Rocking Horse Chapter of Children's Home Society is announcing the engagement of LORITA BAKER VALLEY for a series of three lectures on timely subjects to be held at the Walnut Creek Women's Club, Walnut Creek, on January 13, February 10 and March 9 at 2:00 PM, respectively.

If you have not heard any of her previous lectures, you no doubt have heard of Mrs. Vallely, who is a vibrant and well-versed commentator on affairs both national and international.

Her reviews of current books, event and current Broadway Plays are timely, absorbing and amusing. One cannot come away from a lecture without a renewed interest in the ever-changing conditions of our times. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. William Morgensen, 19 Esta Bueno, Orinda, or Mrs. Herbert Lawton, 36 Adele Court, Alamo.

San Francisco's Grant Street, the meecca of the Beatnicks, moved to Walnut Creek's Sunny Court for a one-night stand (at least some of the guests remained vertical through most of the festivities) last Saturday night.

Prize costumes for the no-host, pot-luck dinner went to Carl (Big Daddy) Marino and his leotard-clad blonde frau, Joyce. If the pair had had to walk more than 50 feet to the party they would have been picked up and housed in the WC barred hospitality center.

Carl's beard and makeup came from Max Factor but another guest, Dick Conklin, got so in the spirit of the bash he cultivated a real beaver. His wife, Pat, also cut a fine figure in a black leotard (oh, for those thin days of the past).

Bill Heim, famed locally as a square dance caller, furnished transportation to the party in his pickup, a welcome chore as he and wife Jackie left their shoes at home.

Other characters included Ron and Ruth Wishart, Andy and Milly Miilu, John and Zanette Roberts. Milt and Myrt Duncan, Dick Duncan, Ilse Gareis, Marge Lovell, Frank and Ann Cook, Harvey and Madelyn Schwartz and Mary Jean Cummins.

Popular vote awards were given to the Wrens of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, table setting, and to the Walnut Creek Suburbanettes, table tree. The Tea and Punch tables were masterpieces also—such lovely gleaming silver service and the candelabras which I understand came originally from Romania.

On the punch table were huge granite newel posts painted white used as candle sticks holding the LARGEST white candles ever! These draped effectively at the base with long streamers of small ivy. All in all a GRAND affair with the help of all the members of the unit making it possible.

General Chairman was Mrs. Beverly S. Wilder, Jr.; decorations and tea tables, Mrs. Philip Knox, Jr., Mrs. Frank Cashin and Mrs. Charles Rodier; refreshments, Mrs. Rix Maurer, Jr., and Mrs. Norman Betaque; Towhee Treats, Mrs. Edward E. Wanaux and Mrs. J. W. Fletcher White; tickets, Mrs. William McGuire; program, Mrs. Fred Hair and publicity, Mrs. Howard W. Hillis. 'THANKS' to Miss Clare Luselli, of Diablo Valley College, Mrs. A. D. Simmen of San Ramon, Mr. Laurence Dodge of Walnut Creek and to Campbell Brothers of Oakland, for their kind assistance.

Late Fall Wedding For the Ken Harrisons

The Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church decorated in gladiolas, stock and Mums, was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Marlene Mae Prust and Mr. Elmer Laurence Harrison, who exchanged their vows in a 3 o'clock ceremony, with the Rev. James C. Upshaw officiating.

Marlene is the daughter of Mrs. Maxine Prust, 1859 Lacassie Avenue, Walnut Creek and Mr. Kenneth Prust of Bremerton, Washington.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Thomas Prust, Marlene wore a gown of ballerina length of white lace and nylon net underskirt.

Her fingertip silk illusion veil was attached to a bridal tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of orchids, white roses and stephanotis.

Serving as her twin sister's only attendant was the matron of honor Charlene Stevens. She was gowned in a pale yellow brocaded taffeta dress with matching headband with veil and shoes. She carried a cascading bouquet of yellow roses.

Serving as best man was Donald Roberson of San Rafael. Ushers were Dale Hutchinson of Novato, and John Baptist of Concord.

Active Grandmother Hasn't Thought of Succumbing to Rocking Chair

By JEAN JERNIGAN

AS ACTIVE as a modern teen, but with the wisdom and understanding heart that comes only with the years, Mrs. Myrtle Pinard of 430 Lenox Court, Pleasant Hill, can and will . . . do most anything!

This lady in her golden years recently volunteered and was gladly accepted to serve as a news reporter! Her paper will be small, but vitally interesting to those who read it, the Senior Citizens of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Pinard has never been far from the scent of newsprint for she is the widow of Percy Pinard, who was longtime compositor and rewrite man for the Chicago Sun Times.

OF GERMAN ANCESTRY (her mother was born in Wisconsin within a few days after leaving the boat that brought the family from Germany) the family settled in the Germantown area of Chicago. She said, "It's an awful area now, but in those days it was very nice and we were surrounded with good German families, then one by one the families moved to outer areas." The Pinards lived in the same house for 20 years, something of a record as compared to the ever changing scenes of today.

Just the bare outline of this lady's Chicago life leaves one BREATHLESS. Her two sons, Larry and Marvin were born in Chicago, but two impish sons didn't slow her down at all.

She worked as secretary to the secretary of the Maywood Trust and Savings Bank, sang professionally at weddings, funerals, club activities, was an active member of Ida Saxton Chapter 698, O.E.S., the White Shrine, past-matrons club, worked with the young people of her church and somehow perfected her baking and cooking skills until she was noted for her German coffee cake and other German style dishes.

The family spent some time in Wisconsin before coming to Wanut Creek but this was no time of idleness for busy Mrs. Myrtle Pinard. She continued her work with young girls from her church and served as Junior Custodian for Jobs Daughters for seven years . . . and sang . . . and baked . . . and continued to give her sons the mothering all boys need.

The Pinards came to southern California, then moved to Walnut Creek about five years ago. They lived in Walnut Creek for a year, then made their home in Pleasant Hill, where Mrs. Pinard now lives with her son Larry and his wife.

MOST WOMEN would be ready for the rocking chair after so many activities, but not Myrtle Pinard. Her California life is a busier whirl than ever!

She runs the house for her 'children' both of whom work, Larry with the postoffice in Orinda and his wife with Civil Service at Martinez. When the chores are done, she 'sews like mad,' most of it intricate and beautiful embroidery. Her most recent accomplishment was a large luncheon cloth.

There are very few evenings this busy senior can spend at home, but when she has to opportunity she likes to watch dramatic shows. She is a member of the Danville Rebekah Lodge, Almona Chapter O.E.S., Past-Matrons club, and a member of the Valley Lutheran Church in Orinda where she assists her son Larry with choir work.

CHRISTMAS WILL BE MERRY and full of joy for this Pleasant Hill grandmother, busy now planning for the arrival of her family from Glendora. Her son, Marvin, his wife and their daughter, Pamela Lynne, who is two years young, plan to spend the holidays at the Pleasant Hill home.

As a member of the Senior Citizens group of Walnut Creek, this senior will tell you she is not alone in the category of active seniors. She has made many congenial friends at the Thursday meetings of the group at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center and would like to see more grandmothers, grandads, too, join the group.

Valley Art Center to Have Tour of Lafayette Homes

The art of the Orient, European sophistication, the homey cheer of an old-fashioned American Christmas, all are sources of inspiration for the beautiful holiday decorations arranged for the Valley Art Center's Christmas Tour on December 15.

"The outstanding success of last year's tour has inspired us to continue this holiday party as an annual event," explains Mrs. Richard Ward, art center president and tour chairman, "and we are sure that, this season again, our guests will find the trip a delight and and inspiration for their own Christmas decorations. Tickets for the event may be obtained from Mrs. Julian Stern, 1064 Via Roble, Lafayette.

Ticketholders will first visit three neighboring homes on a Happy Valley hilltop in Lafayette. "Mele Kalikimaka" (Merry Christmas in Hawaii) will be the motif at the Hi Hennings spacious home. The decorators, Mmes. John Martsolf, William Zion and Glenn Max, will include the poolside terrace overlooking the valley in their island theme.

Across the way in the home of the William Higgins, which boasts a Japanese pool with a miniature waterfall, art objects from the Orient will keynote the holiday decor done by Mmes. William Wilkinson and Richard Funk.

Nearby at the residence of the Robert Bartons, old brick and paneling will provide the background for a traditional Christmas housedressing of green boughs and pine cones, highlighted with bright birds and antique accessories. Mesdames Howard Converse and Frank Mansfield are the decorators.

The tour will end at the house of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Holmes, a charming home where the continental air will be accented by a glittering Della Robbia Christmas tree and fat white cherubim created by Mmes. James R. Moore, Henry Steinback, Alexander Lindsay, Frank Clapp, and Richard Ward.

A blue ticking angel will spread her wings over the fireplace in the family room where guests will be served homemade cookies and mulled cider. The Christmas treats made from cherished family recipes will be served under direction of Mmes. Stanley Coffey. Tom Boothe, Arthur Ford and Philip Merrill.

At each doorway, hostesses appointed by Mmes. Edmund Cardin, and Mel Nielsen, will welcome tour visitors from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Proceeds from the tour will go into the building fund to give the Valley Art Center a permanent home.

Suburbia Scribblings

'Tis the Season

By MARIE MONAHAN

It's that time again! The Hendersons are selling their almonds, the Bowles Boys are selling their Dates, the kiddies are clutching their coins & counting their pennies while their Mommas are saying "Charge it" & blowing the bankroll.

The men are still undecided but are invading stores & departments, some as which they've never seen the likes of before. Christmas is always a good excuse whether they buy or not!

Get a good whiff of the Bayberry candles as you enter Orinda Store (Phair's). Potent! Positively bowls you over! Yes, it's that time of year . . . Steve Brush taking orders for Xmas greens & wreaths — Industrious Johnny Davison out w/his big carton of Christmas cards.

FIRST up & out w/colored lights bright & burning & a full-fledged Christmas tree in the window, at least over on THIS side, were the Art Halls down on Camino Pablo.

Our Town by midweek has everyplace else looking pale. We're all lit up making the Merry Scene. If we had a good rain now, it woudn't seem so premature for parcel post, package wrapping, etc!

Have you seen the ethereal look that even the Freeway assumes at dusk or twilight? — Glimpsed — from high above or coming home from Lafayette, the stream of homecoming cars resembles a long strand of tree lights — or a procession of choir boys by candlelight as it slowly circles through Suburbia.

It's that time again for Sniffles & Sneezes & you might try changing (to cheer you up?) the tune "Waltzing Matilda" to "Walking Pneumonia." If you have nothing else to do — which of course, you don't! Or as the Lady of the house (where they're ALL home w/the Bug) answers the phone cheerfully "House of Flu-ers . . . "

We're Seeing RED!

It's that time, too for the SF Ballet's Nutcracker Suite & Beauty & The Beast but most of the tkts. were going & gone midwk. Oakland's Christmas pageant, "The Light of the World," going strong since we were but a Child, will be presented tomorrow night, Dec. 12, 8 p.m., also Sunday afternoon at 3. Participants number 1600 in this perennial favorite.

SUNDAY SIGHTEM . . . Just like the rest of us caught w/our pantry down occasionally, there was MRS. Phair phoraging phor phood in the phreezer at Phair's Sun. trying to pick out hurry-up meal-makings to hustle some-one off to the airport.

AND WE, who remember names fairly well, can forget to buy salt for one week. Well, we're all human!

YOU & YOUR Little Red Wagon . . . The Charles Kerstens are christening a new red one, big enough for all 9 of 'em . . . & Dorothy & Ray Grassi got their Big one from Santa early — a Diamond-blue T-Bird. Ditto the Bill Gilmores' new wagons, off-white & absolutely unblemished & brand-new.

BLONDE Edie McDowell in her white Triumph — has Eye-oomph!

Furthermore, Methinks, Brenda Giuffre is Touche in her white Hillman Minx (& SHE has been holidaying in Mexico!)

The Len Roths, or rather Marge (he has an Austin Healey) is christening a new teal blue foreign wagon minus fender dents & fingerprints & what's more we heard that an awful lot of yakking goes on at their house. No wonder! They have a MYNAH Bird who gabs, gabs, gabs ALL day long — Hello Minnie, Hi, Come on in, What's yer name, Hello Minnie, incessantly, incessantly!

When you hear the sound of the Cable Car ding-ding, that's Caroline Havre driving by.

MOST UNIQUE RED CAR — the Real Cool Fiberglass job fashioned (homemade) by that VNYM Gail Dishong.

Some Special Packages . . .

AN EARLY SPECIAL DELIVERY package for the Floyd Svenssons (he's Diablo Valley teacher & tennis coach!) The tiny bundle, name of Nora, arrived last Mon. 5 p.m., her shipping weight — 7 lbs. 10 oz., declared value — priceless! # 5 for the family!

The medic Paul Slatterys were visiting the Bill Brocks one evening & suddenly, an Emergency! Paul rushed his son to the hospital & young Chris is now recooping an appendectomy.

JODY RAYMOND, who gets more mail & pkgs. than anybody at Herrick Hospital is having his pix taken w/Oskie, the UC mascot, for the holiday cover of Herrick's "Hospitaler" magazine.

Larry Raymond's father, (Jody's Granddad) C. S. "Pop" Raymond is visiting here from Schenectady, N. Y.

The Vic Grabers have bought a plane & SHE's learning to fly. Just about the time we start to entertain, it will start to rain & the Bob Coxes will head for Phoenix for the fun & sun.

JIM & Betty Irwin will spend The Season on sandy shores Somewhere In Mexico . . . & the George Loshbaughs just might get a White Christmas up Shasta way where her mother has a ranch.

SF SIGHTEMS . . . Tanita Van Duyne & Nancy Foote browsing the Jackson Square shops. The Foote's new home high on El Toyonal (Camino Del Diablo) is handsomely different — the better to decorate, My Dear, Nancy being a former Decorator at Jackson's Oakland store.

By JULE NOLLER

"A spectacular Junior Prom is going to be put on by the fabulous Junior Class of Miramonte on December 18!" This proclamation was made by Connie Cook, Secretary of the Junior Class.

The theme of this "fabulous" Prom will be "Picolo Mundo," which means "small world" in Italian.

DEL COURTNEY, AN Orinda bandleader and radio disc-jockey, will provide music for the evening's dancing.

Besides being busy planning their Prom, the Junior Class held a drive on December 5 to collect canned goods, clothes and toys for the Salvation Army's Christmas Drive. They collected the biggest load that has ever been collected for the Salvation Army. Congratulations, Juniors!

To celebrate the Christmas season and the coming holidays, the Spanish Club planned a Christmas party, held yesterday.

CAROL KNUDSEN, president of "Los Espanolitos" said, "We had a pinata filled with candy, which was broken by a blind-folded student with a baseball bat. Afterwards we danced and sang Christmas Carols in Espanol."

Miss Doris Van Dame, energetic teacher-advisor of the Spanish Club, probably taught the students the "cha-cha-cha" and "mambo," in spite of the heavy cast on her leg.

With Christmas, comes Santa Claus and with Santa comes new ski equipment for Miramonte's "ski addicts."

The new skis arrive just in time for the Ski Club's first trip of the season. They will leave on January 8 for a weekend at Edelweiss on Highway 50.

THE SKIERS HAVE been busy since September lining up members, seeing ski movies and planning this year's trips. Meetings are conducted by president, Jim Boyd and advisors, Mr. Franceschini and Mr. Campbell.

Mickey Wilbur and Terry Scheffer, two Miramonte seniors, took a qualifying examination for the Westinghouse Talent Search Contest on Tuesday.

Besides the test, they will also write a 1000-word report on a research project they have worked on.

OUT OF THE students who take this examination in the United States, the top 40 will be given national recognition for their work.

The dress rehearsal of "Kiss Me Kate" was seen at San Francisco State College by members of Miramonte's Drama Club.

Saundra Thurston, president of the club, Suellen Thomas, Iris Scott and teacher-advisor, Miss Jacobsen were among the group who went.

Members of the Drama Club may attend dress rehearsals of plays at San Francisco State and Diablo College free of charge.

Miramonte's First Annual Christmas Toy Drive will be conducted by the Junior Class tomorrow at Miramonte . . .

Everyone in the community is urged to participate and to bring any old or new toys and canned goods to Miramonte during the day . . .

The canned goods and toys which are in good condition will be given to the Salvation Army for distribution . . .

The Orinda Fire Department will mend and paint the old and broken toys and play Santa Claus to children who ordinarily would not be visited by Saint Nick on Christmas . . .

Tonight, Miramonte girls (and ONLY the girls) will parade to Miramonte to "let their hair down" and forget their studies and boy friends to participate in the "Hen Party" sponsored by the Girl's League . . .

Jumping rope, eating refreshments and playing "silly" games will be part of the activities going on . . .

Entertainment will be provided by the girls themselves in an "all-girl" talent show . . .

Michele Angelo, a senior and cheerleader at Miramonte, is the deserving winner of the D.A.R. (Daughters of the American Revolution) Award . . .

Michele was chosen from the senior girls by her classmates and the faculty as Miramonte's Award winner, because of her outstanding leadership, patriotism, dependability and service . . .

The state winner of the contest will be awarded a $100 savings bond . . . Michele may try for this award by taking an examination on U. S. History . . .

To celebrate the Christmas season and the coming vacation, the Spanish Club has planned a Christmas party for December 10 . . .

Carol Knudsen, president of "Los Espanolitos," says "We will have a pinata filled with candy, which will be broken by a blind-folded student with a baseball bat . . . Afterwards, we will dance and sing Christmas Carols in Espanol."

Miss Doris Van Dame, energetic teacher-advisor of the Spanish Club, will probably be teaching them the "cha-cha-cha" and "mambo" in spite of the cast on her leg . . .

With Christmas comes Santa Claus and with Santa comes new equipment for Miramonte's "ski addicts" . . .

They arrive just in time too, for the Miramonte Ski Club's first trip of the season is to Edelweiss on Highway 50 from January 8 through 10 . . .

The skiers have been in full swing since September lining up new members, seeing ski movies and listening to a Dodge Ridge ski instructor at their meetings, which are held by president, Jim Boyd and teacher-advisor, Mr. Campbell.

Other events planned for the 1960 ski season are weekend trips to Dodge Ridge, Sugar Bowl and Heavenly Valley . . .

The Ski Club's Planning Committee may have the chance of attending the Olympic events at Squaw Valley in February . . .

"A spectacular Junior Prom is going to be put on by the fabulous Junior Class of Miramonte on December 18." These feelings were vibrantly expressed by Connie Cook, secretary of the junior class.

Decision Due On County's Gaming Law

Superior Judge Norman A. Gregg Monday took under submission arguments on whether the county gambling ordinance is unconstitutional.

He did not indicate when he would announce his ruling.

Opposing views were expressed by counsel for four men arrested in an October 2 gambling raid at a Pleasant Hill tavern and by District Attorney John A. Nejedly.

The defense attorney, Maurice Marcus, contended that County Ordinance 142 is unconstitutional since, he stated, it duplicates Section 330 of the California Penal Code, with a resultant "conflict of interest" between the two laws.

Concord Municipal Judge Louis J. McKannay on November 17 denied defense counsel's motion that the county ordinance be declared unconstitutional, and the attorney subsequently filed a petition for an alternative writ of prohibition in Superior Court.

Directed against Concord Municipal Court, the petition seeks to prevent Judge McKannay from conducting trial of the four defendants.

Arrested in the raid by the sheriff's vice squad for playing dice were James A. Farrant, 43, 511 Maisfield, Pleasant Hill, tavern owner and bartender; Wallace Paul, Jr., 38, 17 David Court, Walnut Creek; Elbert T. Barbee, 43, 3207 North Main Street, Pleasant Hill; and Harry W. Adams, 44, 1204 Raeanne Drive, Concord.

THEY LOVE SCHOOL

School attendance has jumped 30 per cent and more in many parts of Asia and Latin America since CARE began feeding undernourished pupils. Contributions to the CARE Food Crusade, 444 Market Street, San Francisco, make possible this vital program to boost health and education for children across the world.

Woman Jailed For Petty Theft Of County ANC

LaVerne Delevati, 22, Concord, was sentenced last Friday by Judge Louis J. McKannay of the Concord Municipal Court to 60 days in the county jail and three years' probation.

The Probation Department had recommended 15 days in jail for Miss Delevati, but Judge McKannay increased this to 60 days with the remark that ". . . stealing from the county is the same as stealing from any private industry and it has to stop."

Miss Delevati plead guilty November 13 to petty theft of welfare funds. She was receiving Aid to Needy Children funds in the amount of $157 per month since June 1, 1959.

Her theft consisted of living with the father of her illegitimate seven-month-old child while he was working. Because of this arrangement, unknown to the welfare department, she was not entitled to the aid she received.

The father of the child, Stanley Creller of 1439 Gary Road, plead guilty to failure to provide for the child in the Concord Municipal Court in November, 1959.

His probation hearing is set for Monday in that court.

Creller is also the father of three children by his wife. The children are ages 4, 2½ and 4 months.

Formal pledging for new members of the eight social sororities on the Stephens campus was held recently at the climax of rushing activities. Initiation of the pledges will take place in February.

Youth Will Face Court Hearing On Assault Count

James R. Bridges, 21-year-old son of the Robert Bridges, 3972 Happy Valley Road, will face preliminary hearing in the Berkeley Municipal Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon December 22.

Bridges was arraigned on the charge Tuesday, when he appeared with his attorney, William Coburn of Berkeley. The Lafayette youth, an engineering student at the University of California, is free on $2000 bail.

HE IS ACCUSED of assaulting a fellow U.C. student whom Bridges had never seen before, David T. Yohannon, 22, of Berkeley, at the latter's apartment last Thursday night. Yohannon is a senior in business administration.

Bridges was announced as the escort of Fredericka W. Lamb of Orinda for the Winter Ball, which will serve as the presentation of East Bay debutantes. There was no comment from Winter Ball officials as to whether Bridges will serve as an escort.

ACCORDING TO POLICE, Bridges' 18-year-old girl friend reportedly told the Lafayette youth that she had been dating Yohannon, and added some information which officers said was not true.

Armed with a tire iron, Bridges then went looking for Yohannon, officers reported. When he found Yohannon's apartment, the police report continued, Bridges rang the doorbell.

Yohannon answered the door, and after ascertaining that he was the man being sought, Bridges began swinging the tire iron, the police said.

NEIGHBORS, AROUSED by the shooting, called police. Bridges later surrendered himself to the police.

Yohannon was treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital for multiple head lacerations and then was transferred to Cowell Memorial Hospital on the university campus for recovery.

According to the officers, Yohannon told them he had never seen Bridges before, but he admitted having dated the girl in question.

Courtesy, Consideration... And Consequences, too!

Courtesy and consideration . . . two of the most familiar words in the English language, and yet two qualities that are noticeably lacking sometimes.

Everybody knows that the more difficult a situation, the more need for courtesy and consideration. This is true at home, in the office, or on the football field.

But nowhere is the need more obvious than on our crowded highways. Just ask your neighbor, who commutes to work, how he feels about the suicidal maniac who cuts in and out of traffic, or about the fellow who comes blasting along the middle lane at about 30 miles over the speed limit.

IN SPITE OF ALL the progress that is being made on our freeway system, we are hopelessly behind. The tunnel is a major bottleneck, and one that will not be relieved for at least three years, and they will be trying years.

The last issue of The Sun carried a story that is indicative of what can happen when people do not realize the effect of their actions. There was a minor rear-end collision in the middle of the Broadway Tunnel. But the effects of this collision were fantastic.

The least serious effect concerned thousands of commuters who were backed up all the way to Upper Happy Valley Road in Lafayette. All these commuters were undoubtedly late for work.

BUT THERE WERE dozens who were stopped right in the middle of the tunnel. These people, as well as those involved in the accident, were in real danger for their health from the carbon monoxide which accumulated in spite of the excellent ventilating system of the tunnel.

And the life of the Highway Patrolman who had to enter the tunnel on the wrong side was in real jeopardy, in spite of his red light and siren.

All this was caused by a group of people who insisted on settling the cause of their minor accident on the spot, instead of in a more appropriate place.

We are sure that they were not aware of the consequences of their action, but it certainly does provide an excellent example of the need for courtesy and consideration on our highways.

During commute hours, the freeways are loaded to capacity. Even a minor upset can cause untold ramifications. Therefore, it is even more appropriate that the common sense rules of highway conduct be observed.

THIS IS NOT THE time or place to speed, to cut in and out from lane to lane, or to become angry at the other driver to the point of committing a dangerous action yourself.

Everybody is going the same way, on the same road, and shares the common problems.

When things are most difficult, then is courtesy and consideration most necessary.

Remember this as you drive down our highways. It may save your life, and it will certainly make things a lot easier for all concerned.

An Addition With Merit, And Congratulations, Too

At first glance, one might tend to question the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors on the hiring of an additional 23 county workers.

But this is only at first glance. Behind this increase in the county staff, lie the recommendations of County Administrator J. P. McBrien.

Before hiring these people recently, the county noted that McBrien's recommendations had been screened out of requests for 112 staff additions.

Also, the salary of three of the recently hired people will be paid by the state or federal government, thereby only indirectly relating to our tax bill.

It is also interesting to note that of these additions, four are deputy sheriffs for a special patrol of troublesome areas throughout the county and nine are to staff the Boy's Rehabilitation Camp under construction near Byron.

Others are in the building maintenance department, personnel department, county hospital and social service department.

This brings the total number of county employees to 2245 persons.

First, it would appear that McBrien should be congratulated for doing such a careful screening job. When the county administrator can pare down requests for personnel from 112 to 23, we are inclined to accept his word for the fact that the 23 additions are badly needed.

For example, it is impossible to staff a new rehabilitation center without the addition of trained personnel to the county payroll.

Secondly, the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors should be commended on its policy of holding staff increases to the minimum and granting no salary increases before next July 1 even in the face of admittedly heavy workloads and apparent salary inequities.

It is only through concerted action such as this on the part of the board that we will be able to keep our skyrocketing tax bills within sight.

It is well to remember that each of us, as taxpayers, pays the salary of each individual added to the county payroll.

When a government gets as large and complex as is ours, it is only through constant vigilance that the costs can be kept within reason.

Such vigilance has been demonstrated on the part of McBrien and the board in this instance, and both deserve our congratulations.

That's the Way the Cook & the Cookie Crumbles!

By MARIE MONAHAN

Out pruning the holly this morning. We are busy with the gold spray & our desk is strewn with seals & stamps & Christmas cards.

It is the Busy Season & there is much to be done before Ol' Santa scrambles down our suburban chimney.

The monthly magazines are full of colorful pictures that motivates us—how to decorate, how to dress—what to buy, what to bake—

A PICTURE in one magazine last week fairly set our mouth to watering—our motives to being motivated. It showed a pretty mother bow-tied into a bouffant apron, standing over her offspring (dressed clean & cute in Holly Berry red) as they neatly cut out a gay assortment of Christmas cookies.

THE SWEET SMELL of successful cooky baking was certainly in the air. The picture reeked of homey atmosphere on the dear & dutiful domestic scene.

Suddenly, we were motivated!

What a good idea! That is what we will do with the children today. (They were home from school with the sniffles). We will make like the Mother in the magazine.

"Children—while you cream the shortening & sugar, Mother will dash to the store for a supply of things to decorate the cookies—then we can make with the Home-Sweet-Home ALL day long. We will turn out batches upon batches of Goodies for all our good holiday guests."

JUST like the picture in the magazine!)

AT THE STORE, we blew the works—silver & pink dragees (those are the little beads that look like BB's & are just as hard on the teeth), cinnamon hearts, slivered almonds, citron & colored sugars.

Meanwhile at home, the children were finished creaming the shortening & sugar.

They were creaming each other—not to mention the ceiling & walls.

We calmly set everything out neatly on the big tatble. Little custard cups full of different decorations—just like it showed in the pretty picture.

WE used the special holiday cookie cutters. We dipped them in flour & proceeded to cut out Santas & reindeer, stars & trees. The dough stuck INSIDE the cookie cutter. We shook it & banged it & it still wouldn't loosen!

We tried the cookie press. What a mess! How can we look like the Magazine Lady with red & green dough sticking to our hands like a gluey growth—or pasted on the pretty apron we just put on?

The children thought the cookie dough deminded them of the play-dough clay they used to punch around in their younger years. They shaped snakes & dinosaurs & airplanes, hardly the thing for the holiday cookie jar.

THE FLOOR was a polkadot pattern of flour blobs.

Children do not stand still when they are making cookies. They carry their work back & forth while they check the TV—or let the bird out of the cage. Or answer the telephone.

Have you ever talked into a telephone mouthpiece full of candied cherries? It is very annoying. But then on the other hand, it is very tasty.

THE COOKIES would melt flat in the oven, the dough in another batch crumbled under handling. This upset us!

But our Modern Moppets humored us—"That's the way the cookie crumbles, Mom!

We crumbled!

The white cat was curled up by the fireplace, all done up in raisins & candied citron(like a molded Nesselrode pudding.

The Gingerbread Men were SOooo decorated, they looked more like Halloween cookies. What a concoction of colors—& ornamentation!

Some of the cookies burned. But our Cub Scout Den thought they were SWELL!

Some of the cookies are stashed away for the holidays — for Grandmother & understanding parents of young children!

SOME of the cookies we can't get rid of at all. Even the dog eyes them with suspicion.

It looks like we'll buy the next batch at the Bakery.

Man, are we motivated to do just THAT!

Some Basics of the Ballot

By LARRY GLAZIER

The right to cast a secret ballot probably is the most fundamental birthright of our American democracy.

But, in addition to being a basic privilege, voting—on the national, state and local levels—is just as basically a responsibility.

OFTENTIMES WE as citizens tend to overlook the fact that local governing bodies are responsible to us and it is our responsibility to assure that local election issues are really decided by a majority of the people and also to assure that the best persons for public offices are elected.

The American public sometimes thinks only from election to election and from state election to state election, thereby overlooking, to some degree, the many important local and area districts which are operating around us.

Ironically, it is these local and area governing bodies which truly symbolize "Democracy in Action." When your friends and neighbors are members of the board of such a district, your beliefs are bound to be heard, and we will find that in the vast majority of cases the governing boards are governed by "the voice of the people."

WITH A GREAT number of districts in this area because of its continuing growth and development, residents of the central county have many opportunities to express themselves at the polls.

I am not referring only to the regularly scheduled district elections for the purpose of choosing the governing board members, but also to the numerous special elections called to decide a variety of important issues.

For example, let's take a look at what's in store for citizens in this immediate area in the very near future.

THE PLEASANT HILL annexation question is imminent — this week, as a matter of fact. It is too late for residents of Pleasant Hill who are not registered voters to do anything about it, but it behooves each and every registered voter in the area to cast a ballot.

The reasoning behind this is simple: Important questions, including the matter of whether or not a community of 20,000 persons should become annexed to a neighboring city, deserve to be decided by a majority of its adult residents and not only a majority of those who vote.

Voters in the Orinda Union School District will have an opportunity, on February 9, to decide whether or not the district should be permitted to borrow additional state aid funds for further construction.

THESE VOTERS HAVE until next week—December 17—to register in order to qualify for this election, and those who have not yet registered should do so if they desire to help make the community's decision.

There also is time—until January 13—for Lafayette School District residents to register for the March 8 election in which it will be determined whether or not the district's special tax rate should be increased and extended and whether or not additional bonding authorization shall be granted.

Other elections scheduled for early 1960 include the Mt. Diablo Unified School District's bond proposal and the East Bay Municipal Utility District's fluoridation question.

EACH INDIVIDUAL CITIZEN in the areas covered by these special elections has an equal chance of making his voice heard in the polling places, and an informed and interested electorate where every eligible person casts his ballot is the truest form of democracy.

Regardless of one's views on any issue, it is certain that voting is one responsibility that should not be shirked.

ANNEXATION

DEAR EDITOR:

Looking from the outside at the Pleasant Hill annexation question it is interesting to see how the true facts gradually come to light when an opposing viewpoint is expressed.

One fact that finally pointed out that the Pleasant Hill master plan was developed four years ago (when the undersigned chairmanned the Civic Council planning and zoning committee.)

But more important, a realistis zoning pattern was established during this same time. I have observed a gradual downgrading of this zoning since that time because of the absence of real effort on the part of the council membership.

The present leaders of the Pleasant Hill area seem to think that upon entering the City of Walnut Creek, their vigilance on zoning and land uses can be further relaxed. To the contrary, an entirely new political and administrative group will have to be convincingly educated on the desires of the residents.

The city obviously has demonstrated in the past a different viewpoint as to what constitutes proper residential commercial, and industrial zoning compared to our objectives in Pleasant Hill four years ago.

Undoubtedly Pleasant Hill has grown to a point where it needs at least the start of some city functions such as police, lighting, more extensive drainage and road maintenance. Laws regulating the use of state and sales tax funds almost necessitates one course of action, establishment of a city government.

However, active community leadership separate from the elected officials will be needed for some time. It will not be possible to drag the public away from their cozy TV programs once a year at election time and properly awaken them to the true issues. Otherwise the public will soon find itself in a typical Oakland community.

RICHARD J. MITCHELL.

THANKS

Dear Editor:

The Pleasant Hill Junior Chamber of Commerce wishes to thank the many people who helped make the polio innoculation drive a success.

We owe a special debt of gratitude to members of the medical profession who willingly donated their valuable time. Also our thanks to The Sun.

Without the help of the medical profession and business people in the immediate area this important service to the community could not have been brought about.

AL O'NEAL,
President.

PUBLICITY

Dear Editor:

The Lafayette Lark Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center wishes to express to the editor and staff of the Lafayette Sun our grateful appreciation for the publicity you have given to our various activities during the past year.

Cooperation like yours is one of the things which makes our task, namely helping to support the work of the therapy center, more a pleasure than a problem.

MRS. EDWARD S. AGENO

GALLERY

DEAR EDITOR:

Please accept our thanks for printing the article about the exhibit of paintings by James McCray at the new gallery of our Rancho San Miguel Swim Club.

We were very fortunate in getting Professor McCray's work for our first exhibition as he has had his paintings displayed at such places as the Chicago Art Institute, the Salon des Realities Nouvelles in Paris, the Metropolitan Museum and the Whitney Museum in New York and the San Francisco Museum of Art.

This was the first time these particular paintings were shown anywhere.

In the next few months the Swim Club intends to show the work of other prominent local artists such as Karl Kasten of Lafayette and Michael Czaja of Walnut Creek.

The next show is planned for the latter part of January.

We hope that all the residents of this area will take the opportunity to visit our gallery at 2727 Can Carlos Drive, Walnut Creek.

Anyone wishing to receive announcements of future shows should call me.

Under The Sun

A Butcher, a Baker, A Candlestick Maker?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

What career does your son or daughter want to follow?

Is he or she interested in becoming a lawyer, businessman, home economist, social worker, scientist, teacher, mechanic, farmer--or what?

Perhaph he or she is too young to be concerned about the future. But if they are older, some thinking and discussion is worthwhile. And that is the point of today's column.

Several weeks ago I read a magazine advertisement placed by the New York Life Insurance Company. It was a discussion of "Should You Go into Advertising?" I'm certain you've seen New York Life ads in national magazines which cover other career opportunities.

Letter was promptly answered

I wrote the company and received some wonderful material. They sent me an attractive pocket book, "Career Opportunities." The foreword explains the book.

"In 1953 the New York Life Insurance Company began publishing, as a public service, the series of career advertisements that are here brought together.

"Since then, the Company has had requests for more than 20 million reprints of the advertisements — from young people, their parents, educators, and institutions. In view of this wide acceptance, we are making the entire series conveniently available in this single volume.

"Each of the articles is based on the experience of one who has distinguished himself in his respective field. His own career's special requirements, its satisfactions and drawbacks are described with the young person, his parents and counselors in mind."

Careers from A to T

In 288 pages, the book covers 34 career opportunities: accountant, aeronautical engineer, architect, armed forces, atomic scientist, banker, businessman, chemist, dentist, doctor, electronic engineer, engineer, farmer, food retailing, home economist, lawyer, librarian, life insurance, mathematician, medical technologist, mining industry, newspaperman, nurse, personnel work, pharmacist, printing industry, public servant, retailing, salesman, scientist, secretary, social worker, teacher and traffic manager.

In addition, they sent four newer booklets: Should you go into the foreign service, Go into Advertising, Enter the Clergy and "Planning a College Education."

Many factors will enter into your child's choice of a career: his interest, his ambitions, his abilities, the counsel he receives from teachers, friends and family, finances.

Do you want them?

Our high school is today doing an excellent job along these lines. Sun staff members, for example, join with other professions each year at high school career meetings.

And I am certain these booklets will be of real value to you and your child. Write Career Information Service, New York Life Insurance Co., 51 Madison Avenue, New York City, 10.

Obviously it is important to assist our young people in one of their most important decisions in life—choosing the right career.

FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

Last week there was a poem in the Letters to Editor column from a Mrs. Jeffreys, stating that it was wrong for people to be forced to drink the public water supply when fluoridated.

Is it true, Mrs. Jefreys, that you yourself buy bottled distilled water for drinking and thereby are not forced to drink the public water supply — fluoridated or not?

THANK YOU

Dear Editor:

The Orinda Chapter of the American Field Service would like to thank you for your cooperation in the recent drive for funds conducted by the Miramonte High School A.F.S. Club.

The goal was surpassed and we feel that the fine publicity you have given our group in the past helped immensely in informing people of the purpose of the American Field Service International Scholarship Program.

Candy Cottage Sweet Joy Happy Experience for Kids

Unlike Hansel and Gretel's unhappy adventure with the old witch in the ginger-bread house, children lured to the Candy Cottage now on display at the Lucky store, Broadway Shopping Center, will experience only the sweetest joy.

The Candy Cottage, complete with candy furniture and winter-time landscaping, will be awarded to the holder of the lucky number by the Diablo Pageant of Arts Alliances, a group pledged to raising funds for the annual May pageant.

The drawing will be held Saturday, December 19 at 5 p.m. at Lucky's. Creator of the cottage is Evadne Wenker, executive director of the Diablo Pageant of Arts Society.

Tickets for the drawing may be purchased at the Pageant gallery and headquarters at 1533 N. Main, or from hostesses at Lucky's.

One Christmas visitor to the Candy Cottage described it this way:

"As we chanced upon this delectable dwelling all covered with frosting snow and dripping with frosting icicles, so cosy was its cheery light that we did not hesitate to explore further. Noticing the tiny flag was up on the gumdrop mailbox, we crossed the candystick bridge that spanned the crystal sugar stream.

The bridge and candystick fence were covered with snow, as were the gumdrop posies, sucker trees and mint leaf shrubs. As we picked our way over the star kisses stepping stones, we were delighted to see a gumdrop redbird preening himself in the gumdrop birdbath in spite of the cold.

We noticed a chimney of solid jelly string masonry and dainty lace curtains framing windows with candystick beams. Red hot hearts bloomed in their gumdrop pots on the candy sill.

Opening the door with its candy wreath, we spied an inviting love seat of peppermint kisses and a sofa with numerous fruit pillows. There was even a candy rocker and hassock, candy bric-a-brac, and tables. Frosting stocking were hung on the fireplace and candy logs were stacked ready to light. The Christmas tree, with confections stacked at its base, was reflected in the wall mirror. All was ready for the sweetest Christmas ever, a child's dream come true.

League to Hear Panel Discussion

An outstanding program is on the agenda for the December meeting of the League of Jewish Women Sisterhood of Contra Costa County, according to Mrs. I. M. Weisberg, publicity chairman.

An interesting panel discussion on the Jewish child in the community will be presented Dec. 16 at the Community Center Building with the following participants: Mrs. Lillian Chase member of the Contra Costa Fair Play Council; Dr. Arthur Roth, pediatrician in charge of the teen-age clinic at Kaiser Foundation Hospital, Oakland; Mr. Alden Mackay, principal of the Walnut Heights elementary school in Walnut Creek; Mr. David Levy, city attorney for Pittsburg and Rabbi David Robins, of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, who will serve as moderator.

The interested public is cordially invited. Meeting time is 1:30 p.m. and will be preceded by a donor luncheon for members at 12:00 noon.

County Short 58 Classes

Contra Costa County is still short roughly 58 elementary classrooms to provide a full day's schooling for 3506 pupils currently on half day session.

County Superintendent Floyd Marchus said attendance reports show that seven districts are operating half day session this fall, as follows: Danville Union, 250 children; Moraga, 45; Mt. Diablo Unified, 1094; Orinda Union, 632; Pinole-Hercules Union, 643; Richmond Elementary, 241, and Walnut Creek, 551.

The total of 3506 is in contrast to 3152 children on half day session in seven districts a year ago and nearly 15,000 at the peak of school crowding in 1949.

This year's total on half day session will be reduced during the school year by the opening of new buildings, including the Ellerhorst School at Pinole, Vista Grande at Danville and San Miguel in the Mt. Diablo District.

More than half of the children on double session—1725—are first graders, with progressively fewer in each succeeding grade through the fifth.

Two districts without half session last year, Danville and Moraga, resumed this year because of enrollment increases. Lafayette and Sheldon on the other hand have eliminated half session since last year.

Your Garden

Many Christmas Gifts Can Add to Green Thumb

Is there a gardener in the house? If there is, give him a gift to garden with this Christmas, and we guarantee you'll make him the happiest person on the block.

A redwood tub, for instance, is something every gardener can put to use but often puts off buying in favor of more pressing needs. The only thing we know that's nicer than a planter is a pair of them—or one that has his favorite plant growing in it.

THE CALIFORNIA Association of Nurserymen suggests that a good garden sprayer is both timely and of long term value to the gardener. C.A.N. members show you many types that will make dormant-season spraying as easy as pie.

Lawns are mostly idle during winter months, but an efficient new lawn mower will be appreciated by anyone who has a carpet of green to keep in shape. If circumstances warrant such a gift, the power mower, of course, is the tool supreme in this field.

A pair of good pruning shears is a must for efficient garden operation. Time and energy can be wasted pruning with inadequate equipment, to say nothing of the plants that can be ruined if cutting tool isn't sharp and efficient. With winter pruning deadlines to be met, this can be a most welcome gift.

PRACTICALLY every gardener alive can use a new hose, so don't overlook the possibility. And as for sprinkling devices to go on the hose, C.A.N. nurserymen offer a wide and varied line of them—from fine-spray fogging nozzles to lawn sprinklers that will water on a square.

There are countless other gifts to be found at nurseries, but space limits naming them all. Don't overlook the possibility of a garden book, or gift certificate

Education Club Hears 5 Educators

The Diablo Valley College Education Club held its second annual potluck dinner in the student activities building, Wednesday.

Members of the education club, families and guests heard five educators — representing the elementary, junior high, high school, junior college, and administrative levels—speak on aspects of education.

See Nurseryman About Reserving New Select Roses

These items should be on the gardener's checklist this week:

Check with your C.A.N. nurseryman and reserve new roses. Demand — especially with the All-America selections — often exceeds supply.

Heathers are to be found in bloom these days. It's a good idea to buy them when you see what you are getting.

Look to poinsettias for some traditional holiday color in the house. Don't forget they are available in colors other than red.

Bulbs are still to be planted in California gardens. Daffodils, tulips and hyacinths are all in supply.

Some dormant season sprays can be applied this month. Ask your nurseryman about which ones to use and on what.

Holiday Ballet Scheduled for Central County

"The Street of the Piper," an original Christmas ballet by Dick Ford, will be premiered at Walnut Creek's Las Lomas High School Auditorium in December 22 at 2 p.m.

Featuring a cast of 10 professional adult dancers and some 50 children, the ballet will be produced and narrated by Dick Ford, star of the KQED television program, "Hop, Skip, and Dance."

"THE STREET of the Piper" offers central county parents an opportunity to take their children to a professional quality Christmas ballet in their own area at a nominal admission charge.

The colorful production tells in dance and song the story of the children after they were led away by the Pied Piper. Its prologue shows the townspeople frozen in their tracks as the crippled boy of the story returns to tell of the piper.

Subsequent scenes feature a human merry-go-round, a cotton candy dancer, the dance of the seasons, and an oriental Mother Goose sequence.

THE PAS DE DEUX is an imaginative and skillful ballet between the "Tooth Fairy" and the initially fierce but ultimately kindly "Monster Under the Bed."

Music for the ballet was composed by Art Eisler and Gill Russack with lyrics by Ed Day. Pianists Leroy Miller and Gill Russack will play for the performance.

Scheduled to be presented on the peninsula in the spring and later in San Francisco, this premiere performance of "The Street of the Piper" is being sponsored by the Lafayette Nursery School. Reservations for tickets at $1 each can be made with Mrs. Richard Fehr at AT 4-4326 or by writing Box 422, Lafayette.

New Series to Begin Jan. 4

Registration for the 65 classes being offered began November 30 and will continue through Thursday.

The Adult Center office is open Monday through Thursday evenings from 7-9:30 p.m. for registration in the main office at Acalanes High School.

A copy of the complete schedule is now available in the adult office.

Registration will remain open after classes have begun and until they are filled. So far this year over 2300 adults have registered in one or more classes.

Because of this high interest it is recommended that students register early.

Inge's New Play Opens at Geary

With Joan Blondell in the starring role, William Inge's great Broadway success, "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," promises to be the highlight of the San Francisco theater season, when it is presented on the stage of the Geary Theater for three weeks, starting December 21.

Fourth success in a row for playwright Inge, "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" was unanimous critical approval during its two seasons at Broadway's Music Box Theater. Life Magazine declared, "It is the theater's best example of a play that is both funny and poignant"; while Newsweek termed it, "Theatrical gold."

Inge, recognized as one of America's foremost playwrights, personally selected the cast of the production which will be seen in San Francisco. This marks the first appearance of Joan Blondell in an Inge play.

Lawson Elected President of Artists' Group

The Diablo Art Association has elected: President, James Lawson of Alamo; vice-president, Bill Hayward, Walnut Creek; secretary, Mrs. Elsie White, Walnut Creek; treasurer, Arthur Odbert, Lafayette.

Publicity, Mrs. Lida Lawson, Alamo; exhibits chairman, Mrs. Mona Williams, Walnut Creek; programs, Mrs. Coralyn Dodson, Walnut Creek; membership chairman, Mrs. Charmian Stapler, Danville; bulletins, Fred Pring, Danville.

Membership of the association has now increased to over 200. Meetings are held on the fourth Monday of each month except December at the Real Estate Building, 1343 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

In addition to the monthly art lectures to which the public is invited, the association also sponsors art shows, maintains a classified service registry and art class listing and issues a monthly news bulletin.

POPCORN FOR HOLIDAYS

What makes popcorn pop? The moisture inside the kernel which turns to steam when heated. If you are going to make popcorn balls for the holidays, keep the popcorn in a sealed container so the moisture can't escape. Home economists also recommend that the corn be popped at a temperature of about 375 degrees.

Sheriff's Auction Slated For Tomorrow in MartineZ

Bicycles of all types, in from poor to good condition, will make up the majority of items to be offered for sale to bidders in the Contra Costa County sheriff's auction tomorrow.

The action, to be held at 10 a.m. in the County Administration Building parking lot, Pine and Escobar Streets, Martinez, is authorized by law to dispose of accumulated property found, confiscated or recovered by sheriff's deputies which cannot be returned to original owners, usually because they cannot be located.

In addition to the bicycles, an assortment of bicycle parts, typewriters, a Toledo scale, assorted tools, vehicle tires, wheels, hub caps and a variety of other items will also be sold on a cash basis to the highest bidder.

Gifts Which Are Welcome

Brightly wrapped gifts are a cinch to engrave a smile on any boy's face on Christmas morning. But, can you think of any better gifts than those that will handsomely wrap the boy himself—for school or dress-up occasions, for youthful work or play.

After all, notes the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, pre-teeners and newly arrived teen-agers try in every way possible to imitate their fathers and older brothers—and nothing helps to give them that "grown up" feeling more than a suit or a sports jacket and slacks outfit like those actually worn by their dads and big brothers.

Whether the older males of the household prefer the new Continental models, the classic Ivy styles or the conservative American Natural types, there are duplicates of these popular garments scaled down to boy-size. This is also true of the new furnishings, including shirts, ties, socks, belts, handkerchiefs, pajamas and underwear.

Cancer Group Hears Talk by Robert Murphy

Local representatives of the American Cancer Society heard an address by Robert Murphy, director of field services of the California Division, December 2.

A film strip, "Conquest of Fear" was shown.

Dr. Frederick A. Pellegrin, county president, accepted the 1960 charter awarded by the state division for continuous high performance in the county-wide program of providing funds for cancer research, of year-round lifesaving education, and day-to-day service to cancer patients.

A SWIMMING AND DIVING show by members of the Soltau Sardine Club of Walnut Creek will be otmorrow. Swimming members are 23 months to six years old. The Sardine Club is an active, all year round swim club for the very young who show exceptional water ability. Membership is by invitation only. The members are trained in water skills of all types; including all strokes in good form, spring board and racing dives, basic synchronized swimming, depth dives, underwater swimming, bobbing, treading water, floating, recovering a 10 pound rubber weight from pool bottom and survival swimming fully clothed. The Sardine Troupe has performed in many swim shows during the past two years. Several of the Sardines have already entered competitive speed swimming and have taken honors for their age group. They will swim at their home base Soltau Swim School at 1 p.m. The public is invited to attend, admission free.

Douglass Honored By Safeway Stores

Alan Douglass of Walnut Creek and 14 other veteran Bay Area employees of Safeway Stores received special awards at a luncheon honoring their 385 years of service held at the Red Chimney, San Francisco, Monday.

Quentin Reynolds, Safeway San Francisco Division Manager, made the presentation before an assembly of his staff and other employees.

Douglass, district manager of the firm's Oakland district, received a mantle clock and a gold tie chain. He started his career in Oakland as a food clerk in 1934.

He received his first promotion as a Store Manager in 1936 in Oakland. Later he managed stores in Berkeley, Albany and the Mt. Diablo Boulevard store in Walnut Creek. Before receiving his promotion to district manager in May of this year he managed the South Main Street store also in Walnut Creek.

Douglass and his wife, Iris, and daughter, Gay, live on Buena Vista Drive in Walnut Creek, where they are well known for their activity in the community.

Douglass has been personally active in the Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Festival Association, Crusade and Business Property Owners Association.

As each of the honored employees received their awards at the luncheon, their service with the company was briefly reviewed by Reynolds who cited each as outstanding examples of faithful service.

Those receiving awards in addition to Douglass were P. Reasor, C. Aldor, H. Falk, F. Souza, V. Webber, F. Gardner, P. Marvin, J. Skocko, J. Anderson, B. Meredith, A. Fleming, A. Webb each 25 years of service and D. Dean, I. Gorsslin — 30 years each of service.

School District Ratio Changed

Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga said that school districts applying for state loans for school construction will benefit particularly from a new state factor for predicting enrollment.

School districts can now officially plan on 1.54 children instead of .88 children from houses yet to be completed or occupied.

The district qualifies for state aid on a square footage basis, which is computed according to the number of children estimated by formula.

The factor was revised upward by the bureau of school planning, state department of education, to conform with the findings of a state-wide survey of children per household. School employees and PTA members visited more than 71,000 homes in conducting the survey.

De Fraga commented that the survey in California agreed with the figures of the U.S. census office in finding 2.35 children of all ages up to 21 years per household.

Astronomy Club Plans Election

Members are on the lookout for "Mercury" these nights. Mars, Jupiter and Venus are also sought.

IN THE WINTER quarter starting January 4, driftwood and wood forms will be used with dry materials, with plants, flowers, vegetables, fruit and rocks.

The Acalanes Adult Center will offer a charcoal figure drawing class at Miramonte High School during the winter quarter. The 11-week class will be held Wednesday evenings 7-10 p.m. in Room K4 starting January 6.

THE INSTRUCTOR, Patricia E. Mervin, has successfully taught art throughout the Bay Area for the past five years. She conducted a similar course last spring and again this fall at Las Lomas High School.

A graduate of the University of California art department, Mrs. Mervin spent two years as a weaver and textile designer for Dorothy Wright Liebes. Following this she did a year of free lance commercial art.

A new resident of Orinda, Mrs. Mervin is very enthusiastic about the class at Miramonte and welcomes beginning as well as advanced art students.

THE INSTRUCTION includes training in form, texture and line with emphasis on quick sketching methods through the use of live models. The media is charcoal. Special attention is given to beginners.

There is an exhibit of the work of her students in the offices of the Acalanes Adult Center.

For further information concerning registration or classes offered on the adult program, please call the Adult Center, YE 5-0170.

'EXTRAS' SELL HOMES

Builders are discovering that it is the little "extras" that make the big difference in selling a house. In the kitchen, the "extra" that appeals most to homemakers is the built-in range. Built-in LP-gas ranges not only are convenient to use, but they also save valuable working space.

GUESSWORK ENDED

New automatic controls have left no room for guesswork in clothes drying. Some LP-gas dryers have automatic signals that tell when the clothes should be removed. Dryers also have special settings for wash-and-wear garments and for clothing that should not be dried by tumbling.

Yellowjackets Take Win Over Knights in Overtime

The Las Lomas Knights put on a thriller for the home fans last Friday afternoon when they lost a heartbreaker to the Berkeley High Yellowjackets in an overtime after being in front most of the way.

The Knights were ahead 16-14 in a free scoring first quarter and made it 25-18 at the half.

Berkeley came up with 11 points in the third quarter to the Knights' 7 and knotted it at 43 all in the closing 20 seconds when Walt Dickson stole the ball and broke in for the tying basket.

In the overtime the only points scored were Dickson's field goal from ten feet out. Dickson was the game's top scorer with 19 while the Knights had Bob Nye with 12 and Tom Nichols with 11.

Farm families, outside city garbage collection routes, are turning to new smokeless, odorless incinerators to replace the old farm rubbish piles. These incinerators, fueled by LP-gas, cost only a few pennies a day to operate.

Miramonte Gets Taste of Victory Via Pleasanton

The Miramonte Matadors warmed up for the Miramonte Hoop Jamboree by copping a 34-27 win over the Pleasanton High Dons Tuesday afternoon.

The Mat Bees had things all their own way as they coasted to a 45-15 win in the preliminary to give the Orinda rooters a good chance to work out during the afternoon's play.

Miramonte took a 9-7 first quarter lead in the varsity game and were never headed as they left the floor at the halfway mark ahead 17-14 only to have the visitors come fast in the third qaurter to close the gap to 23-22.

Miramonte really clinched the win as they outscored to Dons 11-5 in the final canto.

The winners had the game's two top scorers in Guard Bill Caldwell with 12 on six field goals and forward Doug Huds who netted 10 (4 F.G.-2 F.T.). Miramonte hit on 14 for 44 from the field to 8 for 37 for the Dons.

Heartbreaker Loss Suffered By Don Babes

The Dons started fast and appeared to be on their way in the first quarter with forward Mel Simpson hitting for 11 points.

Simpson fouled out early in the first half and that cut the scoring short. As a matter of record he ended up as the Dons' top scorer with 11 points closely followed by Tom Strain who had 10 as did Chris Rinne.

Richardson a forward for El Cerrito accounted for 16 points on five field goals and 6 free throws to take game individual scoring honors.

Poly Parrots Drop Dons On SF Woods

The Poly High varsity basketball team put on a fine display of early season basketball last Monday afternoon when they defeated the Acalanes Dons 55-35.

The game played at Kezar Pavilion in San Francisco found Poly outscoring the local five in every quarter to register the win measuring Acalanes 12-7 in the opening quarter, 17-9 in the second, 16-11 in the third period and 10-8 in the final eight minutes of play.

Superior height gave Poly backboard control and that plus a pressing defense that upset the Dons play pattern proved to be the difference.

Lone bright light in the Dons' offense was forward Mel Simpson who hit for 11 points on four field goals and 3 free throws.

Currington and Poly center took game swing honors with 20 points on 7 field goals and 6 free throws. Poly netted 21 field goals to 13 for Acalanes and added 13 points from the free throw line while the Dons bagged 9.

In the Bee game, the Acalanes Littlemen went down 38-28. Forward Dave Hammett topped Acalanes scorers with 13 points while Ray Ely, Poly forward, hit for 16 points.

New Tire Chain Policy Revealed

The California Highway Patrol has adopted a regulation for testing and approving snow-tread tires to be used as replacements for tire chains, but as yet no manufacturer has submitted tires to be tested.

The state legislature added a new section to the vehicle code this year permitting the use of approved snow-tread tires in place of tire chains. The law specifies that the tires must be approved by the California Highway Patrol.

Bradford M. Crittenden, commissioner of the patrol, said the regulation provides that "snow-treat tires of a type and design manufactured for use on ice and snow as a replacement for tire chains shall be approved by the department as an alternative for tire chains upon determination that such tires, when tested, provide traction ability, stopping ability, and cornering ability equal to tire chains." It becomes effective December 23.

"Whenever a manufacturer submits a tire we will test it and if it meets the legal requirements we will issue a certificate of approval," Crittenden declared. "Until this occurs, the new section of the code will not be effective and there will be no legal substitute for tire chains."

Almost half of all vehicles in California are registered in Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Miramonte Jamboree This Week's Hoop Center

Five League Teams All Rated Tops in Quality

The Miramonte Jamboree is in its third year of drawing the attention of hoop fans of the Foothill Division this weekend.

Tonight and tomorrow night find all five teams of the loop playing one another in league games.

LAS LOMAS WON the title two years ago and Miramonte copped the top spot last season. There doesn't appear to be a real "weak sister" in the five-team league this season and play promises to be of a high caliber.

Picking the winner here is tough and only one that Olde Soss Opples himself would attempt. In past years the winner has been decided on the points scored by minus the points scored against any one club over the two nights of play.

This year it is being decided on the win-loss record. Each game will be 20 minutes long and in event of a tie as far as wins and losses it will be decided on how tied clubs came out when they faced one another.

IN EVENT OF a tie for the runner up spot it will be decided on the basis of the best defensive record throughout the tournament.

Trophies will be presented at the end of Saturday night's play with the first place award being given by the Orinda Lions. Second place award will be given by the Orinda Rotary Club.

Miramonte Block M Society is giving the award for the top rooting section, while the individual awards for the five all stars to be selected will be given by the Matador Booster Club.

IN ADDITION THE Doten Sports Awards will go to the top offensive and the best defensive player.

Berkeley Farms gets into the act with a donation of milk for the players while Fruit Automatic is presenting two boxes of Red Delicious apples.

The two nights of play should find a packed house on hand as the event has grown in popularity each season.

ACTION GALORE IS the order of play with two 10-minute halves constituting a game. Three minutes between halves and a one minute time out speeds the action and keeps things moving.

Officials for the two nights of play are Joe Currio, Thomas Cortez, Vern Gonsalves, Vic Petreschene, Dick Young and John Guzzo.

The schedule for Friday: 6:30 p.m. Acalanes vs. Piedmont; 7:15 p.m. San Ramon vs. Las Lomas; 8 p.m. Miramonte vs. Piedmont; 9:30 p.m. Acalanes vs. Miramonte.

Saturday's play is as follows: 6:30 p.m. Acalanes vs. Piedmont; 7:15 p.m. San Ramon vs. Las Lomas; 8 p.m. Miramonte vs. Piedmont; 8:45 p.m. Las Lomas vs. Acalanes and 9:30 p.m. Miramonte vs. San Ramon.

Meet Young Don Phillips: Matador's Sports Chief

By ERWIN MATTSON

Meet Don Phillips, another up and coming young man, who at present is athletic director of Miramonte High School.

Don is a native Californian, being born and raised in Turlock down in the heart of the San Joaquin Valley. Don came by athletics naturally and was a standout at Turlock High, rated as a power in the prep circles.

Grid Awards to Del Valle

Bob Kovats, quarterback, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kovats of Walnut Creek, earned the Parents' Club trophy for the "most outstanding player."

Max Christiansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Christiansen, was tabbed as the "most inspirational player" for the 1959 season.

Other recognition went to the members of the freshman football team who earned their numerals for top performance on Del Valle's first grid squad.

George DeKlotz, Las Lomas athletic director, was the main speaker of the evening.

Target Range For Area Scouts

Bulldozing operations were conducted recently as work began completed by the end of the week. on the Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council's target range at Camp Hampton, the Scout camp on Bear Creek Road near Orinda.

The target range will be used by Scouts from throughout the council for training in firearm safety, including the hunter safety program, and for performances for the marksmanship merit badge.

IN ORDER TO make the range absolutely safe, it has been cut out of the side of a hill on the 80-acre Camp Hampton site, and the targets will be placed against the hill.

The bulldozing equipment and an operator were donated by the Gallagher and Burk Company of Walnut Creek. Bulldozing began Tuesday and was scheduled to be Raymond Van Tassel of Alamo, a counselor for the National Rifle Association, has handled plans for the range, and now is supervising its construction for the camping committee of the Mt. Diablo Council.

Van Tassel said that when the bulldozing is completed, volunteer groups of adults will place the target frames and put the finishing touches on the project. It is expected that the target area will be ready for use about the first of the year.

THERE ARE ABOUT 15 or 20 groups in the area that are interested in target shooting, Van Tassel reported, and until now they have had no facilities.

In addition to Scout groups, he added, other organizations can have the use of the range by making plans through the council.

CARE CAMPAIGN

The current $4 million CARE Food Crusade campaign to send 4 million packages overseas will actually bring $8 million worth of food to hungry people in 15 countries. U.S. farm foods donated by the Government account for the bargain value. Each gift will be delivered with the name and address of Americans who send $1-per-package to CARE Food Crusade, San Francisco 11.

Good Judgment Is Way To Safe Hunting

"No piece of game is worth risking human life."

William E. Warne, director of the Department of Fish and Game made this statement today on receiving reports of a number of recent fatal hunting accidents occuring in the current hunting season.

THE DIRECTOR pointed out that these accidents are particularly tragic since they are the result of ignorance or carelessness and are preventable through gun safety education.

Sportsmen going afield for the remainder of the waterfowl season are reminded that hunter safety requires the use of good judgment as well as the ability to handle firearms safely.

Warne said he has directed department personnel to make every effort to improve and expand the Hunter Safety Training Program of the department which is conducted by volunteer instructors throughout the state.

THE CALIFORNIA Hunter Safety Training program is the result of a law enacted by the State Legislature in 1953, in order to reduce the number of hunter casualties in the field.

The law requires persons unless previously licensed, to pass successfully a course of instruction in the safe handling of firearms before purchasing a hunting license.

The law further authorized the Department of Fish and Game to cooperate with any reputable organization having as one of its aims the promotion of safety in the safe handling of firearms. The National Rifle Association, which had been prominently active in firearm safety education, offered to cooperate in this program.

THE MINIMUM four-hour course of instruction developed by this association and the National Education Association was adopted and is used in the California Hunter Safety Training program.

According to the Department of Fish and Game, this safety course is designed to give the knowledge and encourage the care that can avoid gun accidents in the hunting field.

Emphasis is placed on the knowledge of guns, proper gun handling, hunter responsibility and good sportsmanship. Instruction is provided by more than 27,800 public spirited volunteers who devote their time, knowledge and effort toward making California a safer state in which to hunt.

The experience of these instructors who have trained nearly 170,000 junior hunters in California has proved that a good knowledge of safe gun handling eliminates the cause of gun accidents and reduces the total of hunting casualties.

Information on how to get firearm safety training may be obtained from the agents who sell hunting licenses in each community as well as from the local fish and game wardens and regional offices of the Department of Fish and Game.

Trailer Heater Termed 'Deadly'

The Department of Fish and Game has learned from the United States Public Health Service that a certain type of small bottled gas heater installed in 10 to 18 foot "travel" trailers can be deadly.

Such trailers are much favored by hunters, anglers and other outdoor recreationists.

The Public Health Service says the heater is the "Thurm Heater" made by the Thurm Engineering Company of Elkhart, Indiana. It has been blamed for eight deaths so far in the Midwest.

The Public Health Service says it has been given information that the heater is of faulty design and is capable of building up a lethal concentration of carbon monoxide gas within a very short time under normal operating conditions.

Ram Babes Get Basics From Bustling Mentor

By DAVE MORENO

Jask Bonnickson, popular 'B' basketball coach at Pleasant Hill Hight School, finds his dual role of teaching both driver education and coaching the Ram lightweights as "stimulating," but, he added, "something new happens every day, and I never know what to expect."

As the basketball season opens, Jack enters his second year of coaching at Pleasant Hill with a wide background of both participating and tutoring athletics, dating back from his high school days.

Bonnickson attended St. Mary's High School of Berkeley, competing in football, basketball and baseball during his prep years. "Of these sports, baseball is my favorite," he stated.

After graduating from high school in 1957, he completed a year at St. Mary's College in Moraga and another four years at the University of California.

While in college at St. Mary's, Bonnickson played on the freshman basketball and baseball teams. He received his Masters Degree in Physical Education at California in 1954 and from there he launched his teaching and coaching career.

St. Mary's High was the first stop for Jack after he received his degree and he directed varsity baseball, as well as junior varsity football and basketball for four years.

Bonnickson met his wife, Camilla, during his early years of coaching. They are the parents of three children: Cathleen, 5; Joan, 2; and Margaret, 8 months old.

Known as "Cactus Jack" to all the players under his direction, Bonnickson taught at Westwood High School in Northern California before coming to Pleasant Hill.

Three generations of Bonnickson's family have resided in Contra Costa County. According to Jack, this factor prompted him to accept a position on the Pleasant Hill High faculty.

Jack feels that the Contra Costa area offers more recreational facilities than any of the regions that he had previously taught, and "Students have many fine opportunities to compete in outside activities other than those centered around school."

The Bonnickson's presently live at 2342 Ida Drive.

Soss Opple Comes Back to Predict Basketball Games

By SOSS OPPLE

If there is one thing tougher than predicting the football games, it's basketball where a team can hit the hoop with uncanny ability one night and be colder than Alaska in mid-winter the next.

Starting off with a pair of tournaments we find Pleasant Hill at the Hayward Invitational. The competition is tough here and they won't place high due to inexperience, but in turn will get much needed experience.

Next Tuesday the Rams play Bishop O'Dowd a top team and they lose 48-29.

The big play for the Foothill Division is the Miramonte Jamboree in which each club plays every other one in a 20 minute game. It's early season and tough to pick but the Olde Prof sez, "there's nothing like going out on the limb early, so here goes."

Las Lomas to win with Acalanes the runner up. The Knights are a good scoring outfit and the Dons haven't been able to really roll and appears to be off particularly in the shooting department.

In third place, it's Piedmont with San Ramon, fourth and Miramonte, fifth. That's all for this time out.

NO NEED TO WAIT

Large families will find LP-gas hot water heaters a blessing when everyone is rushing to bathe or shave before going off to work or school. LP-gas assures a constant supply of hot water—even during peak demand—because it heats water two to three times faster.

Ski Races Are Film Subject

"Skiing Toward the Olympics," is the title of a 75-minute film to be presented by the Mount Diablo Ski Club on Wednesday at 8 p.m. in th Mount Diablo High School auditorium.

Western ski areas and scenes from the 1959 North American races held at Squaw Valley will be shown by Frank Howard.

Also scheduled are ski equipment and fashion displays by the local sporting goods stores.

Admission will be $1 per person. Tickets are available from any ski clb member or may be purchased at the door.

Colorful Reminders Being Sent by County's TB Unit

Contra Costa County residents will soon be receiving a colorful reminder about Christmas Seals from the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Mount Diablo District firemen have been preparing the reminder cards for mailing this past week.

Mailed out today, the reminder is a plea, asking those who received seals to send contributions to the Association. "The reminder is also designed to be a thank you to those residents who receive the card after having sent in their contribution," Mrs. George Chapman, Christmas Seal chairman said.

"Almost 1000 letters are received each day in the offices of the TB Association," she continued, "and it is impossible because of the volume of work involved to avoid sending reminders to some people who have already contributed."

Mrs. Chapman reported that so far this year, the Seal appeal total is $26,982.13. This time last year, $23,574.31, had been received.

Mrs. Chapman said "Contributions are needed for expansion of the Association's tuberculosis control program. Christmas Seal funds make possible health education programs, medical research, and rehabilitation of TB patients."

Unusual Gifts for Men

A Personal Report

from the Four Corners of the Earth

by Arnold Michaels, president of Grodins.

"We have really searched the markets of the world for unique, original and even off-beat gifts for men, and I think you will be truly elated, especially if you are looking for a gift for a person who has 'everything.' I personally found many of these things during the 2½ months I spent in Europe this summer. Some are exclusive with Grodins in the United States . . . the products of small family craftsmen, usually made for sale through their own shops.

"Our sport jackets this year offer some really sensational ideas. For example: A Loden coat, called the Deputy Inspector, is practically lifted off the back of a London Bobby to give you dashing fashion with a British beat. The unusual feature is the cape, which can be worn either for fashion or for very cold weather. It is detachable from the perfectly practical quilt-lined car coat. 39.95

"An imported Alpine weather coat offers most unusual styling. Its many features include an iridescent Pima cotton shell, handsome plaid lining, large patch pockets, each with a separate small zipper pocket for small things, all-around belt with a solid brass buckle, and tabs with brass buckles on the cuffs. There's also a tab on collar to button up snugly around the neck when needed and bi-swing shoulders for freedom of action with deep center vent for horseback or sports-car. Heavy double railroad stitching on all seams completes the smartness at only 39.50.

"Sweden provides the inspiration for McGregor's Donkey Coat, a terrific fun coat made entirely in one piece from a most unusual wool cloth that is one color on the outer side and another on the inside. It has deep patch pockets with slanted flaps and sleeves that are raglan in the back but set-in in front. 39.95.

"The pendulum of fashion swings back to the Norfolk . . . originally a country shooting jacket first worn by the Duke of Norfolk . . . now an unusual sports jacket with straps over the shoulders and stitched - down all around belt. Roomy and comfortable corduroy, 19.95. To wear with it, Continental corduroy slacks at 6.95, and a reversible corduroy vest at 5.95. You can have much fun building a corduroy wardrobe, matching or contrasting colors.

"Good looking smoking jackets are awfully scarce these days. However, I brought back one idea from England and had it copied by our own Robin Reed. Handsome checks in either charcoal grey with a red oversquare, or charcoal brown with a green oversquare. Comfortable sport jacket cut, but the collar is solid color instead of matching. Serves as a smoking or TV jacket, Host coat, or may be worn out-of-doors for sportswear. $50. Companion slacks of Sag-No-Mor Jersey . . . handsome and so comfortable. 14.95.

"The hit of the Caswell-Massey fashion presentation recognizing young designers, held at the lush Four Seasons Restaurant in the new Seagram's Building on Park Avenue in New York last month, was a fur-like ensemble. It consists of a long pullover shirt with a collar and leather thongs . . . a matching fun hat that can be worn a dozen different ways to suit your Siberian, Russian or Eskimo whim . . . and Muk-Luk boots called Ulluks. Made entirely from man-made fibers, they look exactly like fur. Very light in weight, yet protect against all elements. We've dubbed the coat "The California Bearcoat," and I am proud that in California it will only be found at Grodins. Colors are Honey, Polar or Black. Sensational gift for the sports car owner, skier, or lazy sportsman. Bearcoat is 59.50, Hoople hat 9.95 and Ulluks 14.95.

"At the smarter places in Europe I noticed so many men wearing checked and plaid slacks. It strikes me that we are due for a huge revival of fancy pants and you'll find lots of them at Grodins in the new Continental model . . . made from cotton, corduroy or wool and priced from 5.95 to $25. There really should be one pair of fancy pants under every Christmas tree.

"I understand the Victorian revival in fashions extends to furniture and decor . . . and while in Denmark I bought Mrs. Michaels a couple of old-fashioned French telephones with handsomely decorated cabinets. Since getting them, they have caused such a large buzz among my friends that I decided to order some for sale in our stores. They work perfectly as an inter-com. Wonderful conversation piece for living room or library. $25.

"Another outstanding conversation piece for your home is a camel saddle, perfect for your Eastern corner, bar or TV. Authentic wooden saddle of knotted hand-rubbed cherry wood with the most comfortable goatskin cushion, leather thongs and brass bell. Made in Cairo. 39.50.

"In Italy I picked up a whole Who's Zoo of the cutest animals, hand made from native raffia. Great for children and adults. Very humorous monkeys, lions, Bambis, giraffes, alligators, penguins, donkeys, poodles, dachshunds, turkeys. $1 to 19.95 depending on size.

"From the most famous Venetian glass maker come the world - renowned glass clowns of Salviati . . . both sad and humorous. Magnificent colorings. $19.95 to $50.

"I picked up a few lap robes made in Finland of the lightest weight wool I have ever seen. Soft, fluffy and practically weightless in magnificent plaid colorings. 14.95 & 22.50.

"In addition to Tivoli Gardens, Copenhagen is world renowned for the hand-knit ski sweaters of Paul Mage. Unfortunately, he was almost sold out when I was there, and I only managed to secure about three dozen for both men and women. I truly think you will agree that these colorings will be sensational at Squaw Valley. $35 to $45.

"A tie can often be a mundane thing—but we have a group of ties that really spring to life . . . beautiful deep-tone foulards I found in England and magnificent silk velours in Italy. Also bow ties, 4-in-hands, tie-and-handkerchief sets, pocket handkerchiefs and ascots. Priced modestly from 2.50 to 8.50.

"For either a gag or a practical gift, give him a pair of Sportites. They look either like leotards or old-fashioned long underdrawers. Great for cold weather, wonderful for wearing in the dorm or around the house. Black or red. 5.95.

"For golfers we have three really cute ideas: the Golf Gizmo, providing a driving range at home and permitting a full swing with a real ball. Records drives up to 175 yards and shows hooking or slicing. Only 5.95.

"The Sunday Caddi for your Daddi is the weight - reducing answer to the heavy golf bag. Weighs only 20 ounces, holds 8 clubs, 3 balls, tees, pencil and score card. Polished aluminum tubing. 8.95.

"Or give him an automatic golf scorer which like a wrist watch. Clicks each stroke and saves arguments. Made in Switzerland. 5.95.

"Take the guesswork out of charcoal-broiled steaks with a Steak Charmer. Sensitized tip lights up when it's done as you wish . . . rare, medium or well done. 6.95.

"La Bota is a soft goatskin flask that pours for slow drinkers . . . or squirts for fast ones. 7.95.

"Another original flask comes in a leather case that looks exactly like a transistor radio. Fools everyone. $10.

"These are just a few of the many unique gift ideas awaiting your early inspection. In many cases quantities are limited, and of course, they cannot be reordered at this late date.

"Some clever Italian conceived the idea of making a silk handkerchief with nine different colors in it, so that one kerchief can do with any tie. A tremendously interesting gift! Hand rolled edges, of course. 3.50.

Yours for fun-shopping,

Others in the photo are Mrs. Robert See (center) and Mrs. John C. Dolim, both of Walnut Creek. Tickets at $1.50 each may be purchased by calling LOckhaven 9-9538. — Sun photo.

Pleasant Hill Christmas Tree Lot Fighting Cancer

Youths from the 4-H Clubs of Walnut Creek and Concord are staffing a Christmas tree lot in Pleasant Hill daily now until Christmas, selling fresh mountain trees donated by an Orinda man.

All proceeds from sales of the trees will go to forward the work of the Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society.

Fresh from the slopes of Shasta and the Feather River country, the silver tips, white fir and Douglas fir are available at a lot donated to the cause by Jack Ronayne of Concord at the southeast corner of Contra Costa Highway and Willow Pass Extension, one-half mile north of the Gregory Village Shopping Center.

The 4-H clubbers, youths from 12 to 18 years old, are staffing the lot daily from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m., under the direction of Cliff Reeves of Concord, Contra Costa County camp director for the club.

Paul Heffernan of Orinda is supplying the more than 300 trees, plus needed equipment to operate e lot.

Girls Named As Winners of DAR Annual Awards

Good Citizenship Awards will be presented to young ladies from Acalanes and Miramonte high schools by the Acalanes Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, according to Mrs. James Box of Concord, chapter regent.

Local area winners are Pat O'Toole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O'Toole, 1277 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek, who attends Acalanes, and Michele Angelo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Angelo, 173 Camino Pablo, Orinda, a student at Miramonte.

THE PRESENTATIONS will be made by Mrs. Box Monday at a tea in the girls' honor to be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Adams, 3146 Maryola Court, Lafayette.

Pat and Michele will be accompanied to the tea by their mothers and the deans of girls at the two high schools.

Mrs. Box said the DAR awards are granted on the basis of "dependability, service, leadership and patriotism." Other factors included in the selection of the winners by their fellow students and teachers are cooperation, punctuality, loyalty and an active interest in family, school and country.

BOTH GIRLS will be eligible to enter the competition for regional honors, and possibly state competition, which could result in the winning of a $100 savings bond.

The deans of girls, Miss Vera Richardson of Acalanes and Miss Naomi Giddings of Miramonte, will also be honored at the tea, according to Mrs. Box.

Gary Arel Arrives Back in California

Besides participating in various operational exercises, crew members visited Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong and the Philippines.

Unicef Goal Is Reached

Esther Brown of Walnut Creek, general chairman, and Mrs. A. M. Kessler of Orinda, co-chairman for the "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF, announced today that the $1500 goal set for the Walnut Creek, Concord, San Ramon, Orinda and Lafayette areas, has been successfully reached.

In fact, the total collections for these areas are Orinda-Lafayette, $652.89, and the San Ramon, Concord, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill area $1,173.79 for a grand total of $1,826.68.

Almost half of all vehicles in California are registered in Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Two Miramonte Students Take Science Search Test

Preliminary examinations in connection with the 19th annual science talent search were held Tuesday at Miramonte High School under the supervision of Robert Campbell, science instructor.

Students taking the science aptitude test were Mickey Wilbur, 15 St. James Court, Orinda, and Terry Scheffer, 10 Don Gabriel, Orinda.

THE SCIENCE talent search for the Westinghouse scienceT for the Westinghouse science scholarships and awards is conducted annually by Science Clubs of America, administered by Science Service. The purpose of the search is to discover and foster the education of boys and girls with skill, talent, and creative originality in science.

Forty boys and grils who lead in the preliminary examinations will be given all-expenses-paid trips to Washington to attend the science talent institute for five days early next spring and to be judged for the scholarships and awards.

Five of the winners will receive Westinghouse science scholarships ranging from $7500 to $3000 and the remaining 35 winners will be given awards of $250. An honors group also will be named.

HOLD OFF ON BLEACH

Clothes will come out of the wash whiter if you do not add liquid bleach until part way through the wash cycle. A study report made to the 12th National Home Laundry conference showed that many detergents contain brighteners that lose their effectiveness if liquid chlorine bleach is added to soon.

This is because the brightener has not had time to attach itself to the fabric.

Campaign for Christmas Seals Is Ahead of 1958

The Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association got encouraging word today. A checkup showed that the 1959 Christmas Seal campaign is running 13 per cent ahead of the drive at this time last year. $26,982.13 has been received through last Friday.

"The people are demonstrating that they are behind the fight to eradicate tuberculosis, which still kills more people than any other infectious disease," said Mrs. George Chapman, seal chairman.

Mrs. Chapman said more people are answering letters of appeal and using their Christmas Seals than ever before. "The blessedness of giving is the pictorial theme—as well as the spirit—of this year's Christmas Seal campaign," continued Mrs. Chapman. "The open-handed children on the 1959 Christmas Seals are right in the spirit of Christmas. It is our hope that this holiday season will arouse in everyone the same warm generous response to a great need."

"Funds contributed for Christmas Seals," said Mrs. Chapman, "are used to find those who don't know they are ill with tuberculosis, to protect others from infection, to help TB sufferers get well and return to normal life to support research into better ways of coping with this dreadful disease."

The 1959 Christmas Seal was designed by a young Southern artist, Katherine LaBruce Rowe. She received her education and art training in Charleston, South Carolina, and Richmond, Virginia. After a period in New York and work for greeting card companies, Mrs. Rowe returned to Virginia, where she lives with her husband and three children and does free-lance art work, including book illustratoins.

"This year," Mrs. Chapman said, "the TB Association hopes for increased contributions so that more money can be put into urgently needed medical research. Not only must we continue the activities that have already resulted in so much progress in the war against tuberculosis, but we must increase the intensity of this fight."

PREVENT OVEN MESS

A thermometer built into many LP-gas ranges will eliminate the mess that often results from the roasting of meats. The thermometer turns off the gas as soon as the roaster reaches the desired temperature so that meat juices do not splatter and harden in the oven.

School Leaders Meeting Today

Approximately 60 school officials will meet today at the board room of Mt. Diablo Unified School District to hear a talk on "Underachievers Amongst Academically Talented Students" by Dr. Melville Shaw of Chico State College, who is engaged in research on the subject under a federal grant.

Dr. Shaw has completed five such studies and is now publishing three more. He is associate professor of psychology at the state college.

Following Dr. Shaw's presentation, at 2 p.m., there will be general discussion among the group, including members of the staffs of the county superintendent and school districts.

Walnut Creek, Broadway Shops Open 5 Nights

Many Walnut Creek and Broadway stores are now open every night, Monday through Friday, til Christmas.

This is to assist shoppers who have difficulty doing all their holiday shopping during the daytime, or weekends.

Evening-hour shopping until 9 p.m. has been traditionally preferred by many Walnut Creek and Broadway shoppers.

The evening shopping also allows the family to enjoy a good meal in a local restaurant or at home before beginning that pleasurable and exciting, if sometimes exacting, undertaking.

Man-to-Man Giving Can Be Easy This Christmas

Man-to-man gift-giving this Christmas needn't be a problem.

According to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, in the exchange of gifts between father and son, brother and brother, as well as friends and business associates, a masculine appreciation of fine wardrobe accessories is an easy and personal solution.

TAKE LEATHER goods, for example.

Was there ever a man who didn't get a kick out of a handsome wallet, or a belt, or a pocket secretary or any of the modern folders designed to simplify today's executive's growing problem of where to put all his credit cards, his personal papers and memoranda?

Choice of leathers, models and price ranges of these attractive accessories are almost limitless. Fine calfskins, sleek but tough cordovans, grained moroccos and rugged ostrich skins are available along with luxurious alligator and lizard hides.

PIGSKIN in either the pale natural shade, or stained to russet brown or jet black, would be another very much prized leather in any man's collection.

If the man you are gifting likes to brighten up his sportswear with a well placed touch of color, give him one or more of those handsome sports belts that use bright elastics, webbings, foulards and challis. These also come in good looking gift sets including belt, tie and wallet, all in the same matching fabric.

Men who travel frequently will welcome gifts of passport cases and money belts. The latter vary from lightweight washable fabrics to paper-thin, easy-to-wear leathers.

County Gets 5119 New Students

Contra Costa County gained 5119 students between October 1957 and October 1959, sending the total enrollment to 108,573.

This is an increase of 4.9 per cent over last year, said County Superintendent Floyd Marchus.

Elementary enrollment, up from 65,897 to 68,570, increased 4 per cent, and junior high-high school enrollment, up from 34,135 to 36,679, increased 7.5 per cent.

Marchus said the enrollment picture was spotty, with some districts losing enrollment while others made substantial gains.

For example, enrollment in elementary school districts ranged from a loss of 8.5 per cent at Knightsen to a gain of 68.8 per cent in the Moraga District, where housing development is attracting new residents.

Similar development in the Pinole area is responsible for a 17 per cent growth in the Pinole-Hercules Union District.

Among the nine districts operating high schools, San Ramon Valley experienced the highest rate of growth—14 per cent.

Its present enrollment of 897 ranks seventh by comparison with three years ago when it was the smallest.

Pittsburg Unified District's increase from 1744 to 1978 gave it the second highest rate of growth for junior high-high schools, at 13.4 per cent.

When you shop at home, you benefit yourself and your community. When you support your local merchant you support the man who helps pay your taxes.

Gifts Which Wrap Boys Are Welcome

Brightly wrapped gifts are a cinch to engrave a smile on any boy's face on Christmas morning. But, can you think of any better gifts than those that will handsomely wrap the boy himself—for school or dress-up occasions, for youthful work or play.

After all, notes the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, pre-teeners and newly arrived teen-agers try in every way possible to imitate their fathers and older brothers—and nothing helps to give them that "grown up" feeling more than a suit or a sports jacket and slacks outfit like those actually worn by their dads and big brothers.

Whether the older males of the household prefer the new Continental models, the classic Ivy styles or the conservative American Natural types, there are duplicates of these popular garments scaled down to boy-size. This is also true of the new furnishings, including shirts, ties, socks, belts, handkerchiefs, pajamas and underwear.

Junior-grade Continental suits come in an excellent array of fabrics, all keyed to the trim, dressy lines of the model. There are tick hard-wearing worsteds, flannels in both all wool and wool blended with dacron and orlon, and hopsacking. Colors include many shades of blue, gray and brown, plus a liberal assortment of the new soft olive tones.

School District House-Child Ratio Changed

School districts can now officially plan on 1.54 children instead of .88 children from houses yet to be completed or occupied.

Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga said that school districts applying for state loans for school construction will benefit particularly from a new state factor for predicting enrollment.

The district qualifies for state aid on a square footage basis, which is computed according to the number of children estimated by formula.

The factor was revised upward by the bureau of school planning, state department of education, to conform with the findings of a state-wide survey of children per household. School employees and PTA members visited more than 71,000 homes in conducting the survey.

While the revised factor was increased 60 per cent for grades one through six, a still greater growth is shown at the upper grades, reflecting the fact that the tide of school population from the increased birth rate has not risen into junior high and high school grades. The factor for grades 7-9 is three times greater and for grades 10-12, four times greater.

De Fraga commented that the survey in California agreed with the figures of the U.S. census office in finding 2.35 children of all ages up to 21 years per household.

Three-Day Gift Festival Kicks Off Christmas Days

Christmas and the Christmas Season are being introduced in the Broadway Shopping Center by a three-day special event, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Broadway Festival of Gifts Thursday, Friday and Saturday, highlights the very best merchandise which will be available through Broadway merchants, Webster commented.

Stores in the center are open both Thursday and Friday nights, in addition to regular day hours during the three-day bargain event.

Giving the center the Christmas touch will be Santa Claus who is holding court in Capwells and on December 14 Santa will tour through Broadway stores and on Broadway's streets distributing candy to all the youngsters, the chairman continued.

Santa With Candy in Hand To Roam in B'way Center

Old Saint Nick, with pockets full of candy, will roam through the Broadway Shopping Center daily, beginning Monday, according to F. E. Robinson of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Santa will be on hand from 10 until noon, 2 to 5 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, Robinson noted.

"The jolly gentleman will wander through the center, both in the stores and out on the streets, and pass candy out to all his fans, Robinson continued.

The merchants in Broadway invite all our many customers to come to the center, either during the day or evening, and meet Santa.

"More important than Santa," Robinson added, "is the spirit of Christmas which he represents. Broadway merchants have this spirit and are doing all in their power to provide the needs and wants of all Christmas shoppers.

"Broadway is stocked with goods of quality in quantity at more than reasonable prices.

"Santa is not only here in Broadway in person," Robinson states, "every merchant has a little of the old man's spirit to make this the best Christmas ever."

Yule Shopping Is Thrifty At Eager Beaver's Shop

If your Christmas list and your pocketbook seem far, far apart, just take the high road to 3437 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette to the Eager Beavers Thrift Shop. We will show you how the twain can meet.

The store is stuffed like a Christmas stocking with outstanding merchandise suitable for gifts for all of the family. (We do receive many lovely "sleepers" that are just waiting for the right person to appreciate them.)

COMPARE THESE items with your Christmas list:

Cigarette case and lighter, belts, wallet, car caddy, a dozen little liqueur glasses. Or jewelry, corsages, vacuum tins of choice candy, planters, glassware of all kinds, ONE silver platter (serve up your affection upon it), Christmas candles, holders, figurines. This just skims the top of the merchandise that we have to offer.

Must mention the toys because the children rate a special place in our little shop. We have some lovely dollies, stuffed animals. (You should see Pom-Pob, the poodle, and Oski, the bear. Games, guns for the little Big-Shots. All kinds of toys. Great stocking-stuffers.

AND THE PRICES?

Tuck that Christmas list in your jocket, pin a piece of holly on your lapel, hop in the car and shop the thrifty way at the Eager Beavers. You will find that Christmas shopping can be a pleasure and not a pain the old pocketbook.

Therapy Center Participates in Work Evaluation

Mt. Diablo Therapy Center participated last Friday in the Institute on Work Evaluation for administrative personnel of sheltered workshop, Region Nine, held under the auspices of San Francisco State College.

Region Nine includes Guam, Hawaii, Alaska and the eight western states.

Center personnel provided a one-half day seminar focusing on the Sheltered Workshop, its philosophy, structure and need in the community in relation to Contra Costa County.

Members of the Institute will tour rehabilitation centers throughout the Bay Area during the two-week conference.

A Two-Way Christmas Gift . . . Children, Family Both Receive Benefits

There is no question in the minds of 130 families in Contra Costa County as how to adopt a child. For in the past three years 130 children have found happy, permanent adoptive homes in one of the fastest growing counties of the state.

The fact is that one-third of all children placed by the Children's Home Society of California in 1958 out of its Golden Gate District headquarters at 3200 Telegraph Avenue, Oakland, have found homes in Contra Costa County.

When you consider that this district served by the state's oldest private adoption agency covers some 26 counties, you begin to understand the proportions of the picture.

THOSE OF US fortunate enough to have experienced the boundless joy that comes when a new baby is born into our family can begin to appreciate what it means for childless couples to be able to share in that experience, through adoption.

But how does a couple go about adopting a child? Prospective adoptive parents can make their wishes known to private adoption agency like the Children's Home Society, or to their County Adoption Agency. A simple phone call can start the process.

The couple might wonder what is required of them? As far as the Children's Home Society is concerned, the couple does not have to meet any fixed qualifications as to income, occupation, education, housing or social status. A happy marriage, sound health, emotional stability, love and a real interest in children are the primary factors.

First step in the process at the Children's Home is to bring prospective adoptive parents together in a group meeting. Meeting with other parents who want to adopt children, a couple hears of the procedures and policies involved in adoption. They have a chance to ask questions. They can then evaluate more closely their thinking about adoption.

PROVING TO THEMSELVES that they have a deep and abiding desire to take a child into their home, the next step in the process is a personal interview with one of the skilled social workers at the Society.

Next, a period of family study takes place. These meetings are arranged by appointment only, both in the home of the prospective adoptive couple and at the offices of the Home Society.

For reasons apparent to all, preference in adoptions is given to couples who, for medical reasons, appear unlikely to have children of their own. However, this is by no means a hard and fast rule.

AS FAR AS THE age of coupes wanting to make an adoption is concerned, the father should not be more than 43 years older than the child and the mother not more than 38 years older. The prospective adoptive parents shoud have been married at least three years.

You might well ask at this point, how long is it before a couple receives a child for adoption? The careful procedure of family study and finding the right child for the right couple is completed within a period of about one year. However, many adoptions are realized in a shorter period of time.

Adoptive parents are provided with non-identifying appropriate information about the child and his natural parents. After a child goes home with his new mother and father, the social worker from the Home Society continues to counsel and assist the family until the time the adoption is made final by the court.

Physicians, attorneys, psychologists and social workers all participate in the studies and panning leading up to an adoption, each contributing his specialized knowledge to assure the best possible future for the child and his adoptive parents.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME Society needs the help of residents of Contra Costa, "the family county." In an effort to assure the continuance of adoption services at the same high level, the Society is now conducting a fund drive for $10,321.

Walter N. Boysen is the campaign chairman. Honorary chairman is Lester W. Hink.

Other prominent Contra Costa residents serving on the campaign committee are: Donald D. Doyle, Donald Fibush, Edward Howell, Ed J. J. McKeegan, Reverend A. Ray Petty, Arleigh Williams, Robert T. Eshelman, Robert Keyston, Samuel Bradbard, William B. Knowles, Duncan Knudsen, Albert C. Markstein, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Matlock, Dr. Arlane Parker, Steven H. Welch, Jr. and John R. Jacques.

Also serving on the committee are the Mmes. Harry M. Allendorph, Ridgley Greathouse, Herbert Green, James Hicks, Lester W. Hink, Fred Weaver and H. B. Williams.

Taxpayers Hit Piecemeal Pay Changes

Piecemeal correction of inequities is not the solution to the county employee salary problem, J. L. Slagle, chairman of the County Taxpayers' Association public expenditures committee, wrote the board of supervisors, last week.

He said "Inequities in pay are detrimental to morale and therefore not consistent with our objective which is to achieve the most effective use of the taxpayer's dollar.

"But, piecemeal correction of inequities is not the solution to the problem.

"Proper decisions cannot be made merely by comparing job titles and rates of pay. Such an approach ignores job content, responsibilities, and other factors affecting the worth of a job.

"Sufficient data is available that it is possible to prove that any, or every, job is not properly compensated.

"There is no assrance that a pay scale for a given position may not be changed repeatedly.

"Any rate of pay changes within an existing pay structure disturbs existing relationships and creates new feelings of resentment and new requests for adjustments.

"We again recommend to the board of supervisors that this matter be studied for the possible adoption of an improved description and evaluation system. Such a system, when geared to a rate of pay scale, will minimize the number of reviews, improve morale, and provide the board some assurance that the employees are equitably treated.

"We recommend that the policy of piecemeal correction of inequities be abandoned pending a wholesale review following the adoption of a more comprehensive description and evaluation system and policy and procedure related thereto

Volunteer Groups Respond To Christmas Pack Program

Mrs. H. J. Lawler of Walnut Creek reported today that volunteer groups are responding in a heart-warming way to the American Cancer Society's call for Christmas-package wrappers.

Chairman of the project, Mrs. Lawler, said that now only seven days remain to be filled at the Christmas wrap booths at the CBS store at Four Corners in Concord, where volunteers are wrapping holiday purchases with the standard gift-wrap charge donated to the Contra Costa Branch of the cancer society.

At the same time, all those picking up their packages will receive up to date cancer facts to alert them to cancer's danger signals which, if recognized in time, will save lives.

Mrs. Lawyer said groups who desire to participate in the project may call her now at YE 4-7491. Dates needing staffers are December 16, 17, 18, 20, 21, 22, 23.

Hours are as follows: weekdays, 10 a.m. until 9 p.m., Saturday, 9:30 until 5:30 p.m., and Sunday, 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Already working in the Christmas wrap contribution are members of Beta Sigma Phi of Concord; 4-H Clubbers of Concord; Native Daughters of the Golden West of Walnut Creek, Alpha Sigma Omega of Walnut Creek and Faith Lutheran Church of Walnut Creek.

Others include the Ambrose 4-H Club of West Pittsburg and the 4-H Club in Pleasant Hill.

HEATING LOAD RELIEVED

Many older homes feel cold and drafty because new rooms have been added without any thought to the extra heating load. The way to solve this problem is to install LP-gas space heaters in rooms built onto the original home.

Court of Honor

Under the direction of its new scoutmaster, W. P. Gilmore, Scout Troop 207 of Orinda held a court of honor at the Sleepy Hollow School auditorium last week.

Harl Tyler is the assistant scoutmaster, and Steve Cantrill, Mike Gilmore, and Ron Winkler are, respectively, senior patrol leader, quartermaster and scribe.

ELEVEN BOYS were installed as tenderfoot Scouts: Louis Browning, Douglas DeCosta, Stephen Douglas, Hank Hanford, Bob Hussey, Jimmy James, Woodson Merrell, Jon Miller, Kit Renwick, Jeff Rieser and Tommy Winburn.

A total of 24 merit badges were awarded to Doug Fastabend, Rick Fiset, Steve Cantrill, Phil Gardner, Scott Tyler and Ron Winkler.

Scout skills were demonstrated by each of the patrols. Bob Lee's patrol showed first aid, Doug Fastabend's patrol had a knot race, Rick Fiset's patrol demonstrated lashings, measurements were demonstrated by Scott Tyler's parol and Mike Kersten's patrol demonstrated silent signals.
